Russian Forces Surge Closer To Polish Frontier

Stockholm Report Indicates Nazi Forces Have Abandoned Gornel

NAZI ATTACKS ARE REPELLED BY REDS

By NATALIA RENE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, Nov. 19.—The Red Army, surging ever closer to the Polish frontier, today held a firm grip on the strategic railway junction cities of Korosten and Rechitsa, and beat off fierce German counter-attacks in other sectors of the battlefield.

(A Stockholm dispatch quoted reports from Berlin indicating the Germans have abandoned their stronghold of Gornel in the central sector of the front. The Swedish reports quoted German announcements as saying the Nazis "have extricated themselves from the Gornel pocket after a successful shortening of the front.")

Repel Nazi Attacks

In the Korosten-Zhitomir region the Reds repelled a number of Nazi tank and infantry attacks, and German infantry counter-attacks in the area southwest of Dniepropetrovsk were beaten back. The Germans suffered "enormous losses," a Moscow communique claimed, declaring that more than 2,000 Germans were slain in the course of yesterday's fighting.

"During Nov. 17 our troops on all fronts disabled or destroyed 75 German tanks," the Russian high command said. "In air combats and by anti-aircraft fire, 13 enemy planes were shot down."

Capture of Korosten, 55 miles from the pre-war border of Poland, and occupation of Rechitsa, 28 miles west of Gornel, were announced by Premier Joseph Stalin himself in two orders of the day.

Savage Battle

The high command said a savage battle was raging in the Zhitomir-Korosten sector where the Russians are faced by "large enemy forces." In one sector of this battle, the Russians allowed Nazi tanks to pass through their fighting formations and then attacked them from behind, killing 800 Germans and forcing the remainder to flee in disorder.

In another portion of the same battle area the Germans hurled 12 separate tank attacks, all of which were repelled after a fierce, day-long fight.

Southwest of Dniepropetrovsk—presumably in the Kirovograd sector although the Moscow communique was not specific—the Red army

PA NEW OBSERVES

If the woman who lost an earring made of yellow, pink and blue beads will go to the old sycamore tree at the corner of Park and Highland, the earring may be still there where it was evidently carefully placed by the finder in the bark of the tree.

Postponed football game between New Castle and Warren high schools is scheduled for Saturday afternoon at Taggart stadium. The comment of last week is repeated. The news will be unable to give any reports of progress of the game or score, by telephone on Saturday, due to war conditions. Do not ask for the score by phone. The score will be posted as usual at The News building.

Pa New was asked a number of times why some kind of shelters could not be erected downtown for protection of bus line patrons, required to wait outside for the buses. She shelters would only have to be in use during the winter weather, according to suggestions made to Pa New.

In a little over two weeks the second anniversary of the sneak attack by the Japs on Pearl Harbor, will be reached.

German Propaganda Magnifies Leros' Fall

(The Allied defeat of Leros and their setbacks in Italy and Russian are discussed in the following article by Major Paul C. Raborg, noted military analyst and author of "Mechanized Might.")

By MAJOR PAUL C. RABORG
(Written Especially for International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The loss by the Allies of the Aegean Island of Leros is of no importance to the major over-all war strategy of the United Nations. German propaganda, however, has magnified their success at Leros until it assumed, in Axis-occupied Europe, the proportions of one of the great battles of the war.

The Allied fighting on the islands of the Aegean Sea was entirely a part of the "war of nerves" against Hitler and his general staff. Combat in that area kept the Nazis on pins and needles because they never could know at what time a major Allied offensive via the Aegean Sea might become a reality. Otherwise it was purely diversionary.

Could Conduct Offensive

There can be little doubt but what General Wilson, in command of the middle east area has sufficient troops and material to conduct an Aegean Sea offensive at any time. However, as of now, the Axis-occupied and fortified islands, including Crete, would make such an offensive the most difficult of any against southern Europe.

In the not far distant future, all of those islands now strongly held by the Nazis will be left totally without supply and will then fall (Continued On Page Two)

FIFTY GERMAN DIVISIONS IN SOUTH EUROPE

LONDON, Nov. 19.—(INS)—The headquarters of Gen. Sir Harold Alexander, field commander of the Allied forces in Italy, today officially announced there are now 50 German divisions on the southern European front extending from Spain to Turkey.

The Daily Express, quoting the announcement, added that all these Nazi forces "stand braced to meet the northward march of the Allies."

Social Security Boost Opposed

Senator Vandenberg Says He Will Seek Cancellation Of Scheduled Increase

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg (R-Mich.), said today that he will seek cancellation of a scheduled increase in old age social security payroll taxes.

The increase, which is one per cent on employers and one per cent on employees, will become effective on Jan. 1 under provisions of the present law unless congress acts. It is estimated that the increase would amount to one billion three hundred million dollars next year.

Vandenberg said he would offer an amendment to the tax bill to "freeze" old age social security payroll taxes at the present level of one per cent each on employers and employees.

"On my initiative, congress has twice taken this annual action in previous years," said Vandenberg. "I have withheld my conclusion for 1944 until all possible information could be explored."

"There may be reasons unrelated to 'old age benefits' which recommend the 100 per cent payroll tax increases next January, such as a blank movement against inflationary trends.

Sees No Reason For Move
"But I am unable to find any reason, related to the maintenance of adequate reserve for existing 'old age benefits', for doubling these payroll taxes on workers and employers next January; and, no matter how important other purposes may be, I shall always be unwilling to use social security taxes for any other purpose."

NEW AIR RAIDS ARE MADE NEAR ATHENS

Flying Fortresses Hammer At German-Held Airfield For Fourth Day

ALGIER, Nov. 19.—(INS)—Allied Flying Fortresses, escorted by long range Lightning fighter craft, attacked the Eleusis airfield, just outside Athens, for the fourth consecutive day.

Numerous hits were scored among dispersal areas, hangars, and runways while at least twelve German planes on the ground were damaged at Eleusis.

Numerous fires also were started. The forts and their twin-motored fighter escorts were unchallenged by enemy fighters, but ran into heavy flak opposition.

Other bombers, including both Fortresses and medium Mitchells, carried out a new attack on Larissa airbase at Athens. Railroad yards at Grosseto and Terni, Italy also were hit by the American bombers.

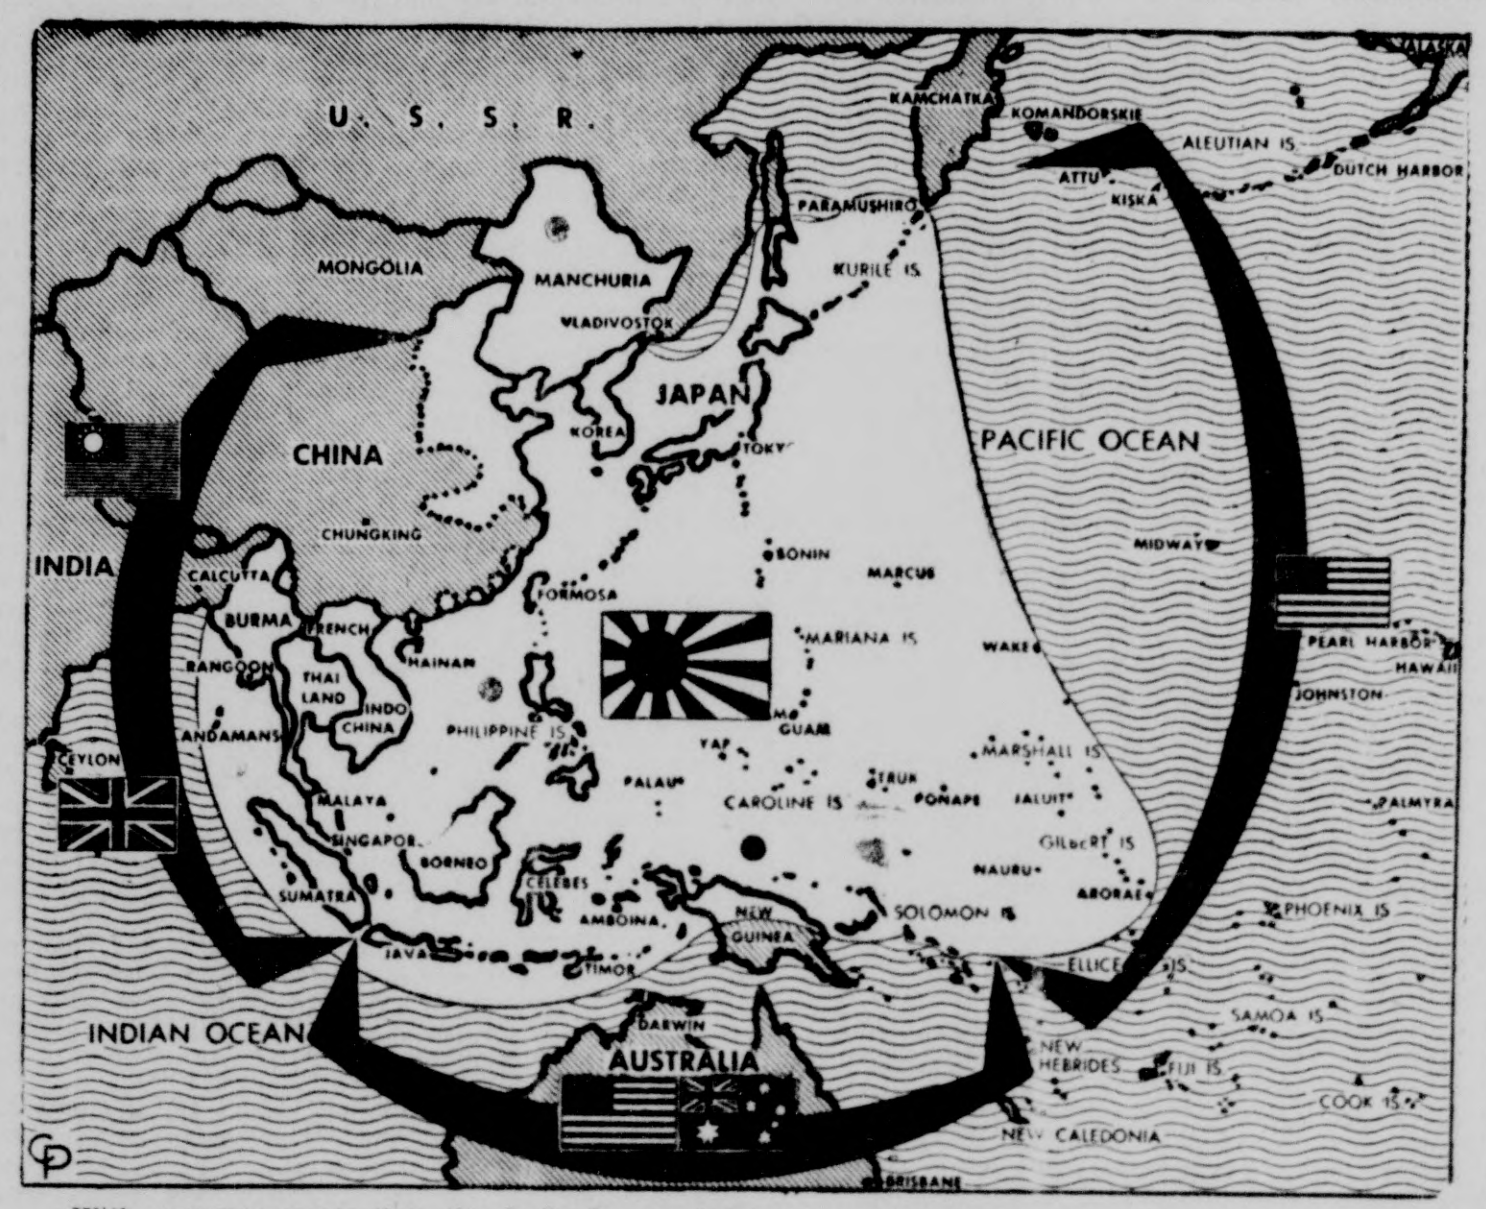

Still more fighters and bombers drifted over Italy in armed reconnaissance missions over the Italian battle area. Fighters also sank a Nazi-operated merchant vessel and damaged two more in the Krka river in Yugoslavia.

Two of our aircraft are missing from these operations.

REPORT SAMOS INVASION

LONDON, Nov. 19.—(INS)—The Daily Express today quoted the Ankara radio as stating that German sources report the Nazis already have begun invasion of Samos, last island in the Dodecanese in Allied hands.

HOW THE PACIFIC-FAR EAST SITUATION TAKES SHAPE

With announcements that the India-Burma-Chinese campaigns against Japan are about to be combined into one of the major thrusts of the war and the Navy Department statement that Nippon was expected to abandon Rabaul, this map gives a complete picture of the scope of Pacific and Asiatic activities. At the upper right, pincer point indicates how Admiral Nimitz may approach Japan from the Kurile Islands. Centered in the map are islands already the scenes of U. S. air attacks. The Gilberts and Marshalls have been raided; New Guinea bristles with action; the last of the Solomons has been invaded; U. S. Chinese and British troops and planes begin hammering a path out of India; Lord Mountbatten is quoted as "ready" for attacks in the Persian Gulf, and on Burma, and blasts against Indo-China will increase in force.

First Baptists Have Banquet

Nearly 400 Attend Dinner Event Feature Of Centennial Celebration

PAGEANT DEPICTS HISTORY OF CHURCH

Almost 400 persons sat down on Thursday evening at the First Baptist banquet, one of the big events in the five weeks celebration of the centennial of the church's foundation. The banquet was served in the dining room of the Epworth Methodist church, and the menu was enjoyed. Theme of the occasion was "A Century of Christian Service."

Preceding the banquet music was furnished by the orchestra directed by Richard J. Callahan. W. O. Williams sang a solo and led the assembly in singing during the dinner. Rev. W. O. Hurst, pastor, gave the invocation. Mrs. David W. Nesbitt introduced the toastmaster, C. Leroy Martin, who officiated in an efficient manner.

Rev. Hurst made a short address of welcome. D. R. Smith, chairman of Centennial committee, was presented, who thanked all for their cooperation. On behalf of the New Castle Ministerial Association, Rev. Thomas J. Jones, president, brought (Continued On Page Two)

NASSAU, Nov. 19.—(INS)—Count Alfred De Marigny and his friend the Marquis Georges De Visselou were fined $400 each today for illegal possession of gasoline. They face the alternative of three months in jail.

LINCOLN SPOKE AT GETTYSBURG 80 YEARS AGO

HARRISBURG, Nov. 19.—(INS)—Today is the eightieth anniversary of Lincoln's Gettysburg address.

And although the immortal three-minute speech has been acclaimed as one of the great pieces of oratory of all time, it is still being misquoted.

Pennsylvania State Historian S. K. Stevens asserted that 90 per cent of the written accounts, "including books that go to know better" misquote the most noted phrase of the address.

Stevens said that the Great Emancipator, in his closing words, hailed the democratic form of government created "of the people, by the people, for the people." But most accounts, he explained, insert "and" before "for the people."

The historian declared that "although Lincoln's address had nationwide significance in 1863, it holds a worldwide meaning today because it contains one of the best descriptions of the basic philosophy of democracy that has ever been written."

REPORT FETAIN RESIGNS

LONDON, Nov. 19.—(INS)—The Daily Express today in a dispatch from Stockholm quoted the Swedish newspaper Svenska Dagbladet as saying that Marshal Henri Petain has resigned as head of the Nazi-occupied French state because he was prevented last Saturday from making a radio speech to announce convocation of the chamber of deputies.

SENATOR TAFT WOULD AID GOVERNOR BRICKER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—(INS)—Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) today offered to campaign for Republican presidential delegates for Gov. John W. Bricker if the latter enters into a wide-spread primary campaign.

"If the governor goes into primaries other than the one in Ohio, I'd be glad to help," said Taft. "There isn't any doubt but that he will be endorsed in Ohio."

Eighth Army Gains Several Miles In Italy

Gen. Montgomery's Army Pressing Forward On Eastern Front

BAD WEATHER IS HAMPERING ALLIES

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ALGIER, Nov. 19.—Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's British Eighth Army pressed forward today on the eastern sector of the battlefield in Italy to seize further ground from the Germans.

Gains of a few miles were chalked up despite continued unfavorable weather north-west of Aversa and near the villages of Archi and Perano, 12 miles inland from the Adriatic.

British, Canadian and Indian troops of the Eighth at the same time crushed an impending Nazi counter-blow by breaking up German troop concentrations in the same sectors with heavy artillery fire.

The cold weather and rain-soaked ground continued to hamper military operations on most of the front, although gun barrages at some points were intense from both sides.

The Germans poured intermittent shell-fire into Fifth Army positions and in one instance a particular trench opposite Mannheim.

Second Attacks

Both cities were targets of Royal Air Force bombers less than 24 hours before. Heavy bombers on Wednesday night bombarded Ludwigshafen while Mosquitoes struck at Berlin.

Anti-aircraft fire from German batteries was heavy over both targets, but the air ministry said the R.A.F. losses were a very low percentage of the total forces employed. The communique said 32 bombers were missing.

Based on previous losses averaging five per cent this total loss would mean a force of more than 600 had participated. However, since the air ministry stated specifically that the losses were a very low percentage of the entire formation which carried out the twin mission it was probable that some 1,000 craft had attacked the Reich.

Berlin Included As Raid Target For Huge Attack

Berlin, Ludwigshafen And Other German Cities Hit In Gigantic Air Raid

PROBABLY 1000 PLANES IN NIGHT'S ATTACKS

BULLETIN
(International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 19.—The systematic destruction of Germany from the air was resumed by a huge fleet of Flying Fortresses in a heavy daylight attack today immediately following the largest assaults ever staged by the Royal Air Force against Adolf Hitler's Reich.

Escorted by fighter planes, the big four-motored American bombers went after targets in Germany during the morning hours, just as Berlin and Ludwigshafen were digging their way out of ruins left by 2,500 tons of bombs dropped in the R.A.F. onslaughts last night.

By LEO V. DOLAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Nov. 19.—Two of the largest Royal Air Force formations ever to attack the Reich last night carried out almost simultaneous assaults on Berlin and the Rhineland city of Ludwigshafen, the air ministry announced today.

The force which battered the German capital was slightly larger than that employed against Ludwigshafen, chief center of the upper Rhine opposite Mannheim.

Mrs. McMillin To Sponsor Cruiser

Wife Of Jap Prisoner, Former Governor Of Guam, To Christen Cruiser

CAMDEN, N. J., Nov. 19.—(INS)—The wife of an American prisoner of war will sponsor a major unit of the Navy for the first time when the cruiser U. S. S. Guam is launched Sunday at the New York Shipbuilding Corporation yards in Camden.

She is Mrs. George Johnson McMillin, whose husband, a Navy captain, was governor and commander of Guam when the Japs captured it in 1941.

Captain McMillin, whose home is in Youngstown, O., is being held at Taiwan camp, Formosa.

The Guam is the second of a class of large cruisers, not quite as big as a battleship, but larger than a heavy cruiser.

OPERATORS SAY MOVE PREMATURE

Maintain New Wage Negotiations Should Await Action On Three Controversies

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(1. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Coal operators maintained today that the newly instituted wage negotiations with the United Mine Workers are "premature" and unlikely to produce any progress until three controversial points are cleared up.

The mine owners continued the formality of meeting with UMW President John L. Lewis and his aides, however, although not sharing Fuel Administrator Ickes' optimism that prospects are "reasonably good" for an early settlement of the mine dispute.

Spokesmen among the mine owners pointed out that realistic and effective discussions looking toward a contract to replace the temporary agreement operative during government control of the pits are impossible until the following factors are disposed of:

1. A War Labor Board ruling on Ickes' recent submission of the temporary wage agreement clarifying disputed points on pay rates for tonnage workers and the technical question of car-pushing.

2. Determination by Economic Czar Fred M. Vinson of the amount of the coal price increase to be granted to cover the $150 daily pay increase to the miners for lengthened hours of work.

3. An accurate estimate on the average underground travel time in coal mines by a special three-man committee named for this purpose by President Roosevelt.

of their own weight. Why should the Allies fight uselessly for something that they will find in their possession anyway?

Lieut. General Mark Clark's Fifth Army was recently pushed out of mountain positions they had previously captured. We have just been informed that a German counter-attack forced a withdrawal of Red army units in the vicinity of Zhitomir.

Strategic Importance

Neither of those battle reverses has any over-all strategic importance. They of course definitely show that our Axis enemies are fighting desperately on both the Russian and Italian fronts.

It should be remembered that in every combat, particularly where it is seriously contested, there is always a backward and forward sway as of the battle of the day. The battle of the day has nothing whatever to do with the ultimate victory of the campaign in question. The Allied troops now fighting on the Italian leg will in the end definitely capture the Italian Peninsula. The Red armies will almost without a doubt be in possession of all of Russia before the commencement of the year 1944.

It is impossible that the professional Prussian officers of the German general staff do not know at this time, and in fact have known for some time past, that Hitler's Axis war in the west is now completely lost.

Hoover says military alliances are futile. So is every kind of contract, if made with a crook.

BERLIN INCLUDED AS RAID TARGET FOR HUGE ATTACK

only 17 British bombers were downed in the first estimate of losses put out by the Nazi agency DNB.

The air ministry said that clouds over Berlin made immediate assessment of the raid on the capital difficult.

Large Fires Seen

The weather was clear over Ludwigshafen, however, and large fires and numerous explosions were observed by the attacking airmen.

Observers along the British coast described the force of bombers seen returning from the continent following the raids as very large. Some said the greatest force they had seen in operation returned over the English coast in perfect formation.

Berlin acknowledged the fury of the bombardments and was first to issue word that the capital had undergone a heavy assault. In addition to Berlin, the Nazi said, other targets in northwest Germany were hit.

When the raiding force soared in over Germany the squadrons divided themselves over the Reich. A large number took a course to Berlin while others went into action against different parts of the country.

First reports of the assault indicated the activities may have been on a scale comparable to the devastating series of attacks in September when three or more targets were hammered. The air ministry then declared the bomber command planes were out in their greatest strength to date.

The raid precipitated bitter dog-fights, according to the Nazis who said that sizeable forces of German fighter-craft battled the attacking planes.

The Germans claimed several British planes were shot down.

Bomb Jap Positions

Patrols of speedy fighters as well as Mitchells made a number of daring sweeps around Bougainville, and bombed and strafed Jap positions at Kahili, Pororangi, Matchin Bay, Kietia and Tiniputs. Six small Japanese vessels were sunk in these attacks, and three American aircraft failed to return.

The Nipponese airbases at Rabaul and Gasmata, on New Britain also received a visitation from the allied airmen, and Gen. MacArthur's communiqué reported our bombers obtained "good coverage" of Lakunali field, one of the enemy's three air fields at Rabaul.

Off the Tenimber Islands north of Australia, Netherlands East Indies air force Mitchells and Australian Beaufighters struck at a 1,500-ton Japanese cargo ship and its corvette escort. Direct hits were planted on both vessels, and the cargo ship immediately sank.

The corvette was so badly damaged that the Japs swung her toward a nearby islet and ran her up on the beach, "a total loss," MacArthur said.

At Wewak, New Guinea, allied air patrols engaged "a large force" of Jap fighters and shot down six, with an additional single probable. Two allied planes were lost.

If he tells you why he is doing something, the other fifty-nine reasons don't matter if there is money in it.

thing but social security benefits. We are not entitled to use social security taxes to finance any part of the war.

The old age payroll taxes go into a fund out of which old age annuities are paid. Partly because old people have obtained jobs during the war, the amount paid out in old age annuities have been less than had been predicted.

The war expansion also has resulted in collecting greater social security taxes.

Vandenberg said in the year ending June 30, 1943, the government collected $1,136,000,000 in these payroll taxes. It paid out $149,000,000 in benefits and $27,000,000 in administrative expenses. The balance of $944,000,000 went into a reserve and brought it more than four billion dollars.

larly fierce barrage was leveled against American positions in the Venafro sector.

German Boats Hammered

German boats boldly plying the Garigliano river at the western end of the battlefield were hammered by British guns. The Nazis previously put patrols back on the south bank of the river to test out the Allied strength and were decimated by British units.

The Fifth under command of American Lieut. Gen. Mark W. Clark managed to improve previously won positions but no important gains were reported anywhere along this front running inland to Isernia from the Tyrrhenian sea coast.

The work of consolidation was hampered by numerous minefields left by the Germans when they retired into their mountain defenses behind the Garigliano and Sangro rivers.

The British of the Eighth Army were aided in disrupting Nazi efforts to loose a counter-assault by Kittyhawk bombers which in several raids bombed and shot up the Nazi troop concentrations. The aerial assaults and artillery barrages broke up several impending thrusts just as the Nazi forces were getting their drive under way.

Shells Are Hurled

Germans guns across the Sangro river from the Eighth Army positions hurled shells at frequent intervals but the fire was not strong enough to prevent General Montgomery's troops from improving their hold in the Ateesa area.

Sharp patrol clashes occurred around Archi and Perano as the British moved up slowly to better their positions.

Numerous rivers along the front were flooded by the rains adding to the difficulties of the Fifth and the Eighth.

Both fighter-bombers and fighters were able to maintain offensive patrols over the battle area concentrating their blows on German communications.

greetings to the First Baptist church. Mrs. Landis, wife of Rev. George M. Landis, a former pastor extended her best wishes to the church.

Youngstown Pastor Speaks

Rev. E. W. Bloomquist of the First Baptist Temple, Youngstown, gave the address of the evening in an inspiring manner, on the theme "Relevance of Christianity, and What Christianity Means To Us."

A xylophone solo, "Holy City," was given by George Wisner.

Following the banquet a pageant depicting the history, foundation and progress of the church was splendidly done and warmly received by the audience. Mrs. Paul D. Weller composed and directed the pageant. A number of the oldest living members faithful in the church's progress were introduced on the stage.

Those taking part in the pageant were Carl Barbour, Edna Ziegler, Ethel Hurst, Walter Van, Nancy Riney, Bob Marshall, Robert Sherer, Gladys Currie, Jesse McClelland, George Wisner, Tom Klingensmith, Helen E. McCommon, Marjorie Van Lloyd Fumelle, Sidney Rodgers, Jack Parker, Miss Helen E. McCommon and Mrs. Paul D. Weller were the narrators. Chester Kyle, church director, was in charge of hymn singing interspersing scenes and acts in the playlet.

The banquet committee comprised Mrs. P. S. McCune, Mrs. C. Leroy Martin, Mrs. Bert McKibben, Mrs. Ed McKibben, Mrs. Balint Kish, Mrs. E. L. Dout and Mrs. Jacob TerLinden. Pageant, W. H. Lukin and R. A. Jenkins, electricians, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sherer, Mrs. Almon Ziegler, Mrs. Frances Bonner, Mrs. Paul W. Fomabelle, Mrs. William Riney, Mrs. D. C. McClelland, Chester Kyle and Miss Ruth Peterson.

Battle losses must be endured, but there is inexcusable dumbness somewhere when bombers and tankers collide here at home.

Forty Hours Close At St. Vitus Church

A capacity crowd attended the solemn closing of the forty hours devotions at St. Vitus church on Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The devotions started on Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock with a solemn high mass.

Rev. Fr. Francis C. Streiff, pastor of St. Joseph's church, was celebrant; Rev. Fr. Nicholas Biondi of St. Nicholas church, and Rev. Fr. Joseph A. Mastrangelo of Butler, Pa., was sub-deacon. Rev. Fr. Albert M. Inteso of St. Vitus church was the master of ceremonies.

FIGHTING SHIP RIGHTLY NAMED

PLACED in the service of the United States Navy at the Philadelphia Navy Yard this week was a newly-built aircraft carrier of the type originally designed as a cruiser.

This is not so notable in itself but for the fact that the vessel bears a well-remembered name. It is called the U. S. S. Bataan, and we can think of no finer name for a fighting ship.

We have had other carriers with historic names, including, for example, the Lexington, Yorktown and Saratoga, and they have added to the lustre of the battles they commemorated. The Bataan takes its place in excellent company with a great tradition to uphold.

Bataan was a battleground made into a shrine by American and Filipino soldiers. Just now it is defiled by the presence of a Savage enemy. The U. S. S. Bataan and the men who fight on her will do their level best to avenge those heroes who fought to the bitter end, and to make that never-to-be-forgotten peninsula free land again.

OCEAN WAVES MAY ROLL

The ancient but hardly pleasurable pastime of mal de mer, or feeding the fishes—preferably over a lee rail—has just been dealt a body blow in the form of a Canadian "secret weapon."

Such eminent medical authorities as Surgeon Capt. C. H. Best, co-discoverer of insulin, and Dr. Wilder Penfield of the Montreal Neurological Institute, have headed a group of research experts who finally evolved a "pink pill" of such admirable efficacy as to prevent or cure seasickness in three out of every four persons normally troubled that way. The pills are termed equally effective for atidness.

The medical staff which developed the remedy arrived at its final conclusion after completing studies which indicated that the basic cause of seasickness was maladjustment of the inner ear's balancing apparatus. The inability to adjust to rapid changes in position. Psychological factors also were found to be important—some people are seafish because they are afraid they will be.

Anyway, the researchers turned out the pills. They are taken one to two hours before sailing, or in rough weather, and are effective for eight hours.

But all the credit does not belong to the distinguished medical men. They did the developing, but they couldn't have navigated the course without the—no pun intended—active assistance of a group of heroic volunteer guinea pigs. These maritime martyrs were tossed for hours in a giant seasaw arrangement designed to simulate the action of a particularly brutal ocean. Their reactions gave the pill preparers the idea they sought.

The result is a boon to mankind—but, alas, not yet to civilian mankind. The pills are to be issued for use only by Canadian service men at sea and in the air. No doubt many an American sailor or paratrooper hopes the hands-across-the-sea idea may be translated into pills across the border. And the average man or woman anywhere who shuns the briny deep because of queasiness has just one more reason for wishing a speedy end to the war.

SAVE FATS—SAVE LIVES

The response to most national campaigns connected with the war has been prompt and liberal. This is true of fund-raising drives, such as War Bond sales and War Fund contributions, and salvages of vital metals and other materials. The only exception is the Fat Salvage campaign.

The chief trouble seems to be lack of continuous effort. The collection of most items on the nation's salvage list is not a day-by-day affair. One simply waits until enough has accumulated and then takes the whole lot to the proper disposal center. But saving fats is a steady job. Housewives must keep at it all the time if they are to get anywhere.

An SOS has been sent out by the glycerine and associated industries, with the approval of the War Production Board, for stepping up the current rate of household collections from something over 100,000,000 pounds a year to 230,000,000 pounds. To meet this quota, every kitchen must provide more than twice the average of the last twelve months.

Grease is such a common, homely commodity that few persons realize how vital it is to the prosecution of the war. It is desperately needed for the manufacture of ammunition with which to deliver the final blows against the Axis. To get enough with which to carry on, Uncle Sam has to depend upon the cooperation of American housewives.

There is another important use for fats. They are employed extensively in making medicines. How many persons know that the sulfa drugs which save many lives by preventing infection of wounds require those same used cooking fats which make shells and cartridges? Or that vaccines and other battle aids also require them?

So little effort provides such a great boon that every home should be enrolled in the Fat Salvage campaign.

ARMY FLIERS END U-BOAT PATROL

Withdrawal of the Army Air Forces from submarine patrol work is collateral evidence of the much improved situation of the Allies in the U-boat warfare. Equally important is the fact that it is rendered feasible by the Navy's enlargement of its own air organization to such an extent that it can handle the job without further Army aid.

This should mean that the Navy is now in a position to use land-based bombers on a considerable scale. There appeared to be some friction in this matter earlier in the war between the services. The Army reportedly holding the position that operation of land-based aircraft was exclusively its own function.

With large-scale land fighting close at hand, the Army's well-tried air units are needed elsewhere. But the months in which the Army has thus worked with the Navy in doing an outstanding job have also afforded a valuable example of inter-service co-operation toward achieving the paramount task—victory.

Of the 26,000 Americans killed in the war to date, none was paid overtime.

Christmas trees to be scarce. But the spirit of Christmas has not been rationed.

A good war policy is to be pessimistic about the present and optimistic about the future.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

GUARDING TEEN-AGE MORALS

"OH, WHERE is my wandering boy tonight!" needs often to be changed to "Where is my young daughter this afternoon (or evening)?"

A great many parents just don't know. A few don't care. Some others are sure that with her fine home and influential family she's morally safe and entirely able to look after herself. A few parents are sure their daughter is engaged in some activity at school, at a Scout or Y meeting, church choir or at some other wholesome meeting when she is actually off on some wild escapade, in a tavern or night club, or on a ride with some defense worker married or single during his hours off.

There are parents, too, who do care very much, even worry about their daughter during her afternoon or evening while these parents both are at work or engaged in some valuable volunteer civic activity—even attending a luncheon or dinner conference or juvenile delinquency. But these parents have not provided adequate protection for their daughter. Even though she goes directly home from school each day, how safe is she there with no adult home to be responsible to? My bulletin, "Suggestions To Working Mothers" may be had for postage by writing me in care of this paper enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

Report of OWI

Recently the Office of War Information reported that the teenage pick-up girl "is frequently crowding out her step-sister the professional prostitute, as a public menace."

In its report of spread of juvenile delinquency, the OWI notes the activities of the "young amateur" pick-up girls, "frequently infected with venereal disease"—are very plentiful in communities near military camps or war plants. And it might be added that many of these girls are from so-called good homes, often very well dressed, vivacious, attractive girls.

Warn your boy about to leave for the armed forces of this type of girl.

Investigation of One Case

Noting that these girls with a bit of practice "reveal themselves by a childish display of their new money," the OWI cited the case of a Washington junior high school where teachers noticed girl pupils "fleshy $10 bills." Perhaps this could happen in almost any other junior high school in the United States.

Upon investigation it was found that the girls were operating on an "afternoon shift" run by a woman known to the police. "The girls attended classes in the morning and spent the afternoon at the apartment 'entertaining' civilians who worked on the night shift at a factory. The girls were always home for supper and spent the evening studying."

Do you know where your teenage daughter is all the time? Have you guaranteed to her reasonable moral protection? Is there always some capable person at home to whom she is responsible? Does she have parents she obeys, respects and admires?

Solving Parent Problems

Q. How may one get measurements for making a home-made set of blocks?
A. Mrs. Myers and I devised some measurements, to be had for postage by writing me at 235 East 45th Street, New York City enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

Q. Should not the school building be used more than most are for supervised recreation for teen-agers?
A. Yes; indeed.

THE TYRANT LAW

The death penalty has been ordered for all Italian civilians who fail to heed German and Fascist decrees.—News dispatch.

This the tyrant's last resource. Using death to bolster force. This for free men, one and all: Death against a firing wall.

Death for any trivial cause! Death for breaking German laws! Who resists the Fascist will. Load, take aim and shoot to kill!

Whispers one that force is vain: Send a bullet through his brain! Blood of one gray Nazi spilled? Order fifty townsfolk killed!

Dare the rules to disobey. Brave man, with your life you'll pay. This the law till by and by. Comes the tyrant's turn to die.

Hints On Etiquette

While many customers are rude and inconsiderate, many clerks are also discourteous. Since goods are scarce and jobs plentiful. Courtesy from both sides would help during these wartime days.

"Yes, We Have No Bananas" used to be just the rather silly sounding title of a popular ditty. Now it is one of the great basic truths of American domestic economy.—Washington Evening Star.

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 5:42. Sun rises tomorrow 7:50.

Turkeys will always be scarce with some people who cannot get enough of them.

It is claimed that 30 per cent of every 1,000 American soldiers in England are getting married. Good luck to them!

A lot of people are slowing up in this country thinking the war will soon be over. It may be a long time yet, so everybody should do all they can to help win it.

When an American keeps his nose close to the grindstone, you can always depend on it that it is held there by some well-dressed woman's thumb.

HOW TRUE?

There is a legend that Hercules was once going along a narrow road when a strange-looking animal appeared threateningly before him.

Hercules struck him with his club and passed on, but was greatly surprised soon afterward to see the same animal approach yet more threateningly, now three times as large as before.

Hercules struck it fast and furiously but the harder and oftener he struck it, the larger and more frightful it grew, until the monster completely blocked the road.

Then Pallas, the goddess, appeared to Hercules and warned him not to strike the monster again. "His name is Strife," she said. "Let him alone, and he will soon become smaller even than he was at first and will eventually disappear."

All strife and quarrelling will cease if one of the quarrelers is let alone.

Very often when some birds are seen whispering together they are planning on something nasty.

We are told that apple products will be short. That will include hard cider.

A lot of birds will speed just as long as they have the things to speed with.

FAST WORK

California: "Now in my state we can grow a tree that size in about a year. How long did it take you to grow that one?"
Floridian: "Can't say for sure, but it wasn't there yesterday."

So far as women go, judging by the busy signals we get, the telephone company's campaign to make conversations brief seems to be a flop.

A lot of people always have to be told to do things and even then they don't do them or don't know how.

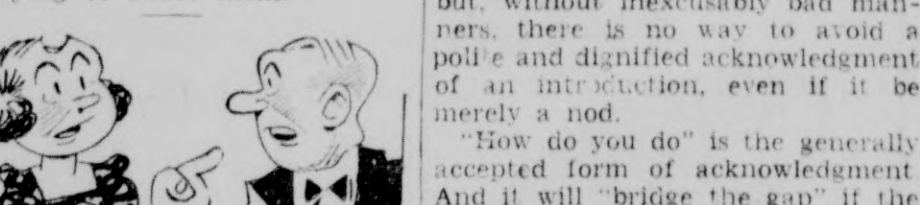

The chaps who have only so much money to live on now and who cannot get any more are the ones who are really suffering the most.

Freshman: "Where do jailbirds come from?"
Soph: "They are raised from larks, bats and swallows."

A married man says there's evidently no end to his wife's mind as he gets a piece of it daily.

How are you getting along on your liquor rationing?

Our idea of a fool deer is one who wanders onto city streets. They are safer in the country where hunters are trying to shoot them.

Even as a bride she shows what kind of mother she will be. If she will be a good one, she mothers her husband.

A lot of people don't like daylight saving time.

There are self-made women too and they always seem to be in business.

Great age has one consolation. One gets so old he doesn't worry about anything.

"I have come here," said the angry caller to the superintendent of the street railway company, "to get justice, sir. Yesterday, as my wife was getting off one of your cars the motorman stepped on her dress and tore a yard of frilling off the skirt." The superintendent remained cool.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Those of us who are past the draft age or physically unfit to serve, nevertheless can't escape the fact for a moment that there is a war on.

Read your newspaper, turn on your radio, try to buy a pair of shoes—and you simply can't escape it.

But more than anything, more personal than anything else, is my nightly pre-going-to-bed visit to the refrigerator.

For years it has been almost a rite.

The last friend gone, the last line read, the final yawn, the wife about to lock the doors and turn off the lights before going upstairs—and then comes my good night trip out to the kitchen with Deuce, my Sealym, at my side.

He's drooping in anticipation, I'm licking my lips, also in anticipation. That he is and I was.

Deuce doesn't know there is a war. I do—and I would even if I didn't have a paper or a radio in the house.

What a joy it used to be to go to that refrigerator.

No Admiral Byrd, no Peary, no Amundsen ever got more of a thrill out of their explorations than I did out of my discoveries.

There was that left-over piece of steak, or an enticing pink cut of roast beef. There was Camembert cheese and Liederkranz, and plump and spicy sausages, Virginia ham, and heaps of butter.

There was the picking and choosing, throwing a tid-bit here and there to Deuce.

Then came the slicing of the bread, the thick slab of butter, the covering of the bread—one slice with ham, the other with roast beef, a heap of lettuce, a glass of milk.

What a time Deuce and I had over these night luncheons.

What a glorious happy feeling when we rolled into bed, happy as hogs, defying all the doctors' warnings, soundly sleeping till it was time for breakfast.

But now? Last night I just about managed to find a thin piece of Swiss cheese. There was about a teaspoonful of butter in the house. Deuce had to be satisfied with a crust of bread—and apparently he was.

But I went up to bed, my stomach just about as full as the holes in the cheese.

Sherman certainly was right.

Thanksgiving

Indian summer is nature's Thanksgiving. All creation dons new garments in a wild and grand display of color. The winds are mellowed by a gentle sadness, speaking a deep peace, an immortal joy, a sort of humble gratitude of all growing things.

Indian summer follows that short period we call Squaw Winter, a few days of frost and sometimes a bit of snow. Winter is anxious to get going and bursts in upon summer ahead of time—but summer not to be pushed aside so hastily summons all her power and glory and stages a come back and winter is forced to an orderly retreat to build a strong fortification some weeks to the rear.

The battle of the seasons precedes the date set by tradition and known as Thanksgiving Day—a time when Americans set aside the cares of life and give thanks for the good things and the harvest of the year.

As an instance, let us walk over the "Buckeye Hills" of southeastern Ohio in the softness of Indian summer days. Stop on any hill top. Look out across the hills, beneath and far away and watch the tides of gold in-coming. They move like tides of the sea stirred by cool winds and a deep emotion to cast their harvest, the season's driftwood, into the haven and hold of the year. A sadness closely related to joy touches your soul and sets it adrift on that sea of gold and the tides of myriad colors that bear the harvest home.

This is nature's way of purifying the thoughts of man before he partakes of that sacred communion we have learned to call Thanksgiving. Such a period makes the heart humble, wits dangerous pride and defines an exaggerated ego; it takes the rancor out of the mind; it breaks the aches of a long summer's toil.

The corn is in the shock and covers the hills like countless Indian villages. Wagon loads of pumpkins coated with layers of fourteen karat gold are piled about the corn cribs. Baskets filled with walnuts, hickory nuts, butternuts and hazel nuts are scattered about.

About the yard all kinds of farm implements are parked in crazy fashion ready to be stored in sheds for the winter. Bundles of bonnet, bitter root, yellow root, ginseng, sweet anise, smart weed and dozens of other herbs hang from the rafters in the wood-shed to be used during the long days of winter to kill the aches and pains that come with the snow and north wind. Pasture fields that not so long ago were green are now brown and bare.

In this perfect setting the mind turns to Thanksgiving. The thought is paramount everywhere that the great God whose children we all are whispered to the earth and it gave the manifold harvest.—From "Thanksgiving Back Home" by Samuel Hardin Stille in the National Republic.

Humanity Cannot Take Things Too Easy
Columnist Sees Need For Beseating Sin
Fierce Fight Looms Over Food Subsidies

By HELEN ESSARY
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—I am beginning to worry about the post-war world. It is beset by dangers. Not from enemies. But from over-zealous friends.

Every magazine, every public speech and private conversation has a plan. THE PLAN. THE PLAN OF ALL PLANS, to stick up this troubled globe. I am beginning to fear that so much polishing will take the starch out of our weary planet and put it among such terrestrial has-beens as the moon.

Do the best we can with the heavenly body on which we temporarily dwell. By all and every means, do the best we can. But don't let's be so unnaturally good, so aseptic that we'll shrivel and wither away. This is what happens to all kinds of animal matter, including human flesh, if it is made too sterile.

The postwar world needs a few beseating sins to keep it scratching for life and progress. David Harum's dog, remember, had to have fleas to keep from thinking about being a dog.

In addition to loving one and all, Hottentots included, every instant of the day and night we who survive this war must be prepared to skim through the air on some advanced type of flying trapeze. We must use happily electric gadgets yet unknown to man or woman. We must eat dehydrated foods.

We must work with exquisite insouciance with business, agriculture, labor, private enterprise, government radicals, government fascists, Communists, reformed Fascists, sharecroppers, ballet dancers, South African diamond miners, East Indian snake charmers, veterans, dress designers, radio commentators, spiteful columnists, jolly generals, fearless admirals, cause-less ladies, unneighborly good neighbors, dollar-a-year men minus the dollar, Asiatic immigrants and millions of unemployed.

Add to this conglomeration a violent influx of plastic. This and plastic that. We'll need to develop plastic personalities in order to survive the beautiful postwar world.

Speaking seriously, very seriously, Hitler has just threatened mass executions of his own people. Once again he proves himself a madman. Once again he speaks from the beer parlor from which he first shouted his followers into being.

Isn't it hideous that this almost self-confessed madman should have been permitted to sacrifice the lives of millions of people, not only the lives of his enemies but the lives of his countrymen whom he drove on with false hopes of victory? What a tragedy that German scientists do not justify their belief in the killing of undesirables by the sudden extermination of their insane paper-hanger!

Washington military strategists tell me that there is no possibility of Germany ever becoming the great world power it hopes to be regardless of the might and persistence of the German military machine. Germany is so situated geographically that it must first cut its way through central Europe to the sea before it can begin to compete with England, Russia and the United States. Nations with broad coast lines and water outlets.

The word "subsidy" pops into almost every governmental conversation today. It is a word that has always confused me. In the dictionary, "subsidy" is "a gift by way of financial aid." In the doubling public mind "subsidy" hasn't a good sound. It indicates to many people "something for nothing."

A something moreover that tends to lower the morale and the morale of its recipients.

When you talk about subsidy in the capital this November you generally prefix the word "food." For one of the biggest fights of the now rebellious Congress will soon center on the "food subsidy."

Briefly the battle will storm over whether or not the government will pay subsidies to food producers in order to keep prices down for consumers. The administration, masculine and feminine branch, is intent on "food subsidy." Farmers who want more money from somewhere, say the phrases "food subsidy" and "farm subsidy" should never be used. Actually the proposed subsidy will be a "consumer subsidy."

The farmer, who undoubtedly does a lot of complaining, is nevertheless at the base of our national existence. We simply can't get along without food. Somehow we've got to make sure that the farmers are paid enough for their product to keep producing.

ARMY CAMPS

A visit to an army camp shows that our soldiers are well cared for. They are given a physical and mental examination on admission. At short intervals they are given a check up.

If they get sick or injured they are examined by a doctor right away. Laboratory and X-ray tests are made. They are given the very best treatment.

If an operation is needed, there is no delay. Skilled surgeons are on duty all the time.

Food of the best quality is provided. There is abundance of food. There is a great variety. Nourishment, minerals and vitamins are carefully calculated.

Entertainment and recreation are provided. Religious services are held. Chaplains are on duty regularly. Consultation and advice on religious matters are available.

Uncle Sam takes good care of his soldiers.

The World and the Mud Puddles

ANOTHER "BEER BUST"

Adolf Hitler gathered his be-madefat satellites around him in Munich beer cellar, and celebrated the twentieth anniversary of the Nazi party. As usual, he did most of the talking.

But his talking didn't make much more sense than his ranting of twenty years ago, which promptly landed him in jail and led to the description of "a noisy nut in a greasy raincoat." While the quality of his ranting has been improved in the two decades that he followed, his mentality hasn't. He wasn't a superman then and he is not a superman today.

Despite all of the fatuous phrases that have been used in the last two decades to describe his genius and his intuition and his mystic insight into the beyond, Hitler revealed his fear and his greatest weakness—the inability to see beyond his inflated egotism and understand the working of a normal human mind.

For Hitler, in his anniversary speech, predicted that the war would go on to victory or annihilation. He knew, as he must have known for months that he cannot achieve victory, and if he thinks the German people are going to stand by him until they are annihilated, he is suffering from delusions of grandeur far greater than has hitherto been expected. That isn't the German way. That isn't the German philosophy, and when the German people understand that all this little Austrian who has led them for a decade has to offer them is annihilation, the Nazi regime will collapse and his war lords will come to the Allies, bragging that they have disposed of Hitler and that they want to be friends. As Prime Minister Churchill so aptly phrased it, the Germans are "either at your throat or at your feet."

In this beer hall celebration, Hitler was surrounded by the same thugs who have helped him carry out his diabolical program of ruin for twenty years. There were Goebbels and Himmler, Goebbels and Schepman and Ley. Certainly each of these cut-throats would as soon face annihilation as defeat, for to them the terms are synonymous. But they forget the little people of Germany—the people who will make the final decision of surrender or annihilation.

These are the little people whose homes have been reduced to rubble, who have been plodding their way along congested roads filled with refugees from the bombed industrial districts. These are the little people who ten years ago surrendered their hope of liberty for the glowing promises of Hitler—"the nut in the greasy raincoat." They are the people who are paying the penalty, the people who have

Maywood, Ill., Tank Captain Leads Force To Avenge Bataan Reverse

By STAFF SGT. WM. S. FRANK
Marine Corps Combat Correspondent
(Distributed by International News Service)

NEW GEORGIA ISLAND—(Delayed)—The heroic 192nd tank battalion from Maywood, Ill., all of whose members were killed or taken prisoner by the Japs in the hopeless stand on Bataan, was avenged today when a marine tank captain from Maywood led the final American assault upon Munda airfield.

Tanks led by Marine Captain Irving P. Carlson, 26, overran the last Jap positions and covered the advance of army infantrymen who stormed the Jap lines and captured the strategic Jap base.

Captain Robert W. Blake, 26, of Canton, O., who also participated in the marine tank assault, gave this picture of the action which crushed Jap resistance.

Followed by eager soldiers, the iron behemoths reached Munda airfield in a column and, with 37-mm cannons and light machine guns, blasted the eastern slope of much-bombed Kokengolo hill. "As the infantry advanced up Kokengolo to take that side," Blake said, "we drove around to the west side and repeated the operation. Meeting only light and scattered resistance, we roared around in back of Kokengolo and blasted positions and pillboxes in a wooded area for about 200 yards toward Girasi point."

He said that in a final phase of the attack he and Captain Carlson "completed the conquest of the airfield by clearing up Munda point," adding that they were unable to find a machine gun position supposedly on the very tip of the thin strip of land.

Medical Secretary Declared Suicide

Coroner's Jury Investigates Case In Chicago; Claim Records Were Altered

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—(INS)—The death of Miss Marjorie Tyler, attractive 28-year-old medical secretary, was declared a suicide today by a coroner's jury of six prominent physicians who also condemned the alteration of her case history at the Cook County hospital.

After hearing eight witnesses in the case, the coroner's jury returned a verdict declaring Miss Tyler died of carbon monoxide poisoning after inhaling illuminating gas in her near north side apartment. The verdict added:

"We regard the falsification of the hospital records as highly reprehensible. We urge autopsies be held immediately on all cases of suspected unnatural death."

Miss Tyler, secretary to Dr. Raymond W. McNeely, chief of the Cook County hospital staff and chief surgeon at the Wesley Memorial hospital, was found unconscious in her apartment a week ago yesterday by Dr. Victor A. Lands. Dr. Lands, an assistant to Dr. McNeely, told the coroner's jury he had altered the hospital records to show that Miss Tyler died of a heart ailment. He admitted tearing up some original records.

HIS CHICKEN FARM PAYS OFF AT RATE OF DOLLAR AN EGG

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 19.—Joseph H. Jones, a newspaper man, started a chicken farm in Springfield Township three years ago, and now he is getting $1 apiece—not a dozen—for his eggs.

A bit of a story is involved. "The first thing I did," explained Jones, "was to pay $60 for a rooster and two hens. I had them shipped from Oregon. Friends and fellow citizens thought I had gone somewhat crazy. But the rooster was the grandson of Orange Blossom, a hen which laid over 1,000 eggs during her career, and one of the hens was granddaughter of a hen that laid 320 eggs in one year.

"The rooster and the hens were of the Hanson line and their pedigree runs back for about seven generations. The hens lay nothing but white eggs, which are practically super in size. The average hen will lay about 90 eggs per year; my hens, which are the result of breeding the original rooster and the two hens will lay between 210 and 250 eggs per year. A few do better than that."

Jones ships eggs to all parts of the country for breeding purposes. Some eggs and some chicks of the Hanson line have been shipped by air to South America to found a family, there to replace the lines where the egg product of some hens is not much more than 50 per year.

An army engineer unit, which helped survey the Alaskan highway, was transferred to Australia, making a trip of 23,000 miles through a range of temperature from 63 degrees below zero to almost 100 degrees above.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 19.—(INS)—Three brothers from Steubenville, O., were accused by the FBI today of carrying away a small safe containing cash, checks and bonds worth $10,768.

Agents charged that Stanley, Jack and George Yonis hauled the safe in a car from the Scott Service Company store in Burgettstown to Steubenville, where it was fished from the Ohio river. The contents have not been recovered.

The brothers were each held under $10,000 federal bail.

Says Food Subsidies Are Political Dodge

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 19.—(INS)—Food subsidies today are essentially a political dodge and will not control inflation in the opinion of Louis Brownfield, Pulitzer prize-winning author and Ohio farmer.

"We've got inflation already with 40 or 50 billion dollars floating around with nothing to spend it on except food and trash," he declared as he prepared to address the City Farmer's club of Pittsburgh.

Subsidies, he said, merely take the profit off the top and pay it in at the bottom in the form of taxes.

APPROVAL GIVEN POSTWAR PLANS

State G.O.P. Women Approve Programs Outlined By Governors Martin, Saltonstall

By JOHN PAGET
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 19.—Postwar programs outlined by Gov. Edward Martin and Gov. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts for reduced taxes and more home rule carried the unanimous endorsement today of the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women.

Both governors expressed the conviction that New Deal policies must be discarded at the closing session of the council's 21st annual convention last night in Harrisburg.

Governor Martin said recent election trends pointed to a Republican victory in 1944 but warned that the party "must be ready to accept responsibility." He said the G. O. P. must decentralize both federal and state governments in order to safeguard the interests of returning soldiers and sailors.

A sharp division between state and federal sources of revenue was recommended by Governor Saltonstall, guest speaker at the council's closing session. He said industries
"must not be taxed to extinction" and that Americans must not be dependent upon "the federal purse."

The three-day convention was highlighted by the installation of incumbent officers, headed by Mrs.
Caroline Y. Huber, Jr., of Haverford, president, and speeches by National G. O. P. Chairman Harrison
Spangler, state party officials and Clarence Budington Kelland, noted author and national committeeman from Arizona.

Governor Martin warned against hoping for a sudden end of the war and wartime restrictions. "It's going to be many a day before things of that kind will be normal," he said. "The biggest offensive of the war is before us. Victory is in our grasp but we can win only by concerted effort."

OCD NOTES

Activities Of OCD Workers
Are Outlined Here

Some OCD workers were distant from home sectors Thursday when there was an alert. Some of them were able to borrow arm bands from posts where they were. Others should carry arm bands and other credentials with them because there will be air raid drills and blackouts and they will not be announced by the Army in advance.
Members of the OCD who possess Federal equipment are reminded that there is apt to be an inspection at any time.

All meetings should be listed with the OCD. They should communicate the time and place to the city office immediately.

POPULATION SHIFT CAUSES PROBLEMS FOR PITTSBURGH SCHOOLS

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 19.—(INS)—
The movement of population from Pittsburgh proper to suburbs has created a new problem for the city's school board.

"You dare not build a new school to last a hundred years," said Dr. Henry H. Hill, school superintendent. "You can't be sure that the population will be there to make it necessary. It's up to all of us to make the inside of Pittsburgh so attractive that it will retard this movement."

Dr. Hill suggested smoke prevention as the most effective remedy, along with improved planning to attract construction of new housing in more spacious and attractive neighborhoods.

AIR EXPRESS VITAL AID TO WAR EFFORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—(INS)—
The air express service is proving of vital importance to the war effort.

A recent survey shows that more than one-fourth of the matter flown consisted of machinery and metal parts. In case of breakdowns, replacement parts are flown across the country at a three-mile-a-minute pace making possible important economy in time and labor. The heaviest shipment of the year was a propeller shaft weighing 2200 pounds, according to the Railway Express.

The expense of air transportation is found to be trifling compared with the loss from idle machinery.
The second classification of air express matter comprises newspapers and accessories. Drugs, serums and medical supplies come next in turn.

Committee Of Senate Favors Pay Increase

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—(INS)—The administration suffered another rebuff today in its anti-inflation battle when legislation was approved making effective the proposed eight-cent-an-hour pay increase for 100,000 non-operating railroad workers.

A state interstate commerce subcommittee overrode the objections of economic stabilization director Fred M. Vinson that the pay boost would violate the "little steel" formula.

The subcommittee described the wage agreement between rail operators and employees as a "valid agreement" and challenged Vinson's contention that the pay increase was inflationary.

Vinson had previously recommended a sliding scale increase of four to ten cents an hour, thus overriding the conclusions reached by a presidential board which approved a general eight-cent increase.

The subcommittee's recommendation which will be reported to the full committee Monday, came as the nation's 1,450,000 railroad workers were voting almost 100 per cent for a strike call in protest against Vinson's proposed wage cut.

Count De Marigny To Be Sentenced On Ration Charge

NASSAU, Nov. 19.—(INS)—Count Alfred De Marigny and his friend the Marquis Georges De Visselou will appear for sentence today following their conviction on charges of illegal possession of R.A.F. gasoline and violating the Bahamas gas rationing system.

Pending sentence the two Frenchmen were at liberty on bail of 100 pounds ($400) each. The gas rationing conviction may carry jail terms up to six months and maximum fines of 100 pounds, or both.

The conviction of illegally possession of the air force gasoline, a violation of the penal code, may carry a prison term of as much as 10 years.

Nancy Oakes De Marigny, wife of the count and daughter of the late millionaire Sir Harry Oakes, of whose murder De Marigny was acquitted last week, was visibly depressed by her husband's conviction on the gasoline charges.

AWAITS DECISION ON PRICE OF MILK

HARRISBURG, Nov. 19.—(INS)—Gov. Edward Martin awaited the decision today of Economic Stabilization Director Fred M. Vinson on the advisability of a hearing to increase the price of milk in Pennsylvania.

The chief executive told his news conference that he had received acknowledgment of his telegram to the federal official requesting an "immediate hearing," but asserted that "Vinson said he would take it under consideration."

The Office of Price Administration has twice refused to approve a milk control commission order boosting prices two and three cents a quart throughout the state, except in the Philadelphia area, to give farmers an increase of 90 cents per hundredweight.

RECORD WAGE IN STATE REPORTED
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19.—(INS)—Weekly wages paid by Pennsylvania factories in October reached a record volume of 52 million dollars, the Philadelphia Federal Reserve Bank reported today on the basis of returns from approximately 2900 plants.

A fractional rise was recorded in employment, while hourly earnings dipped slightly to an average of $1.02. Average weekly earnings, however, advanced to a new peak of $46.06, owing to an increase in the number of hours worked per employee.

In contrast with June, 1940, the beginning of the defense and war program, payrolls soared 139 per cent and employment rose 39 per cent. Iron and steel industries and their products, transportation equipment and chemicals and their allies were the leaders in the high payroll groups.

REPORT SURRENDER
LONDON, Nov. 19.—(INS)—The Italian garrison on the Aegean Island of Icaria, west of Samos, has surrendered, the German DNB agency claimed today.

Reuter said German troops also occupied the island groups of Lipso and Patmos, north of Leros, "after enemy resistance was broken."

LICENSE SUSPENSIONS
HARRISBURG, Nov. 19.—(INS)—The liquor control board has announced the following license suspensions, effective Dec. 10:

George Shahade, Royal Cafe, Johnstown, 10 days.
Angeline Vicari, Manhattan restaurant, Butler 15 days.

William Cloyd Marks, Dutch Kitchen, Holidaysburg, 30 days.

Apprenticeship For Teachers Is Urged

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Nov. 19.—(INS)—The novel suggestion that new teachers be compelled to serve an apprenticeship under experienced instructors was advanced today by Dr. C. C. Peters, director of educational research at Pennsylvania State college.

"Under the two-teacher plan one would be a master teacher and one an assistant of a different age level," he explained. "Newer teachers could thus serve an apprenticeship in the profession under the guidance of capable, experienced teachers, and educators could give more attention to the needs of individual pupils in large classes."

Dr. Peters conceded Johnny might not like the suggestion.

MAN IS INJURED
William Sallman, aged 25 years, of 816 Fulkerson street, an employee of the United Engineering and Foundry Company, sustained a severe laceration of the ball of the left foot at his work early this morning. He was brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital for treatment at 2:45 a. m.

TO HEAR EVIDENCE IN CHILD MURDER CASE IN N. Y. STATE
POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Nov. 19.—(INS)—A jury of five women and seven men prepared to hear evidence in the case of 13-year old Edwin Codarre, of New York City, charged with the murder of Elizabeth Voight, 10, last August.

Codarre, youngest defendant to go on trial for first degree murder in this state, is accused of having raped the child in a corn field near her home in East Fishkill. When she wept following the attack, it is alleged, the boy killed her.

LOUIS COSTELLO GETS ORDERS FOR SERVICE EXAM
HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 19.—(INS)—Louis Costello, rolly-polly Hollywood comedian, could use a magic carpet today.

The postman brought him a notice yesterday that he's I-A in the draft and is supposed to report this morning for a preliminary physical examination in Paterson, N. J.

The actor, who got the news on his return from a rest in Palm Springs, immediately wired his draft board asking permission to take the examination in Hollywood.

SCHOOL PURCHASES TO PROVIDE JEEP
GROVE CITY, Nov. 19.—Purchase of year's $2,000 worth of War Bonds and Stamps this year by pupils of the three local grade schools will be celebrated next Monday. The pupils will buy an Army jeep with $1,165, and start a fund with the balance which they hope to increase to $1,780 by Christmas vacation, to buy a field ambulance.

Next Monday, a jeep from Camp Reynolds will be exhibited at each grade school. This arrangement was made by Postmaster Olive McCoy and Capt. F. E. Green, commandant of the 8th College Training Detachment here. The program was carried out by the Parent-Teacher Association of each school.

In the amazing record of purchases, the pupils of Central School have, since Sept. 7, invested $531.60; Lincoln School, $544.55, and Washington School, $504.65.

Private enterprise, new model: A few great corporations getting complete control so they can curb the enterprise of little fellows.

SMART IS OFFERED COURT APPOINTMENT
HARRISBURG, Nov. 19.—(INS)—An appointment to the Allegheny county common pleas court bench to fill the unexpired term of the late Judge Ralph H. Smith had been offered today to County Solicitor Walter P. Smart, Democratic judge-elect.

Gov. Edward Martin disclosed that he offered him the appointment until the first Monday of January 1944 and Smart was considering whether he could complete "certain work as solicitor" in order to accept the appointment.

Smith, who had been nominated for another term, died Oct. 15 and the Democratic executive committee named Smart to take his place on the ballot. Smart will assume office on Jan. 3.

RICHMAN BROTHERS are Living Up to their Reputation

People who know what good clothes we make marvel at our low prices, especially in times like these. Some have asked us, "Are your clothes as good as they were before the war?" Well, here are the facts:

The good name of Richman Brothers was earned the hard way—by keeping quality UP and prices DOWN—and that still goes.

O.P.A. Reports 'Side' Payments Revealed

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 19.—(INS)—Regional O.P.A. enforcement officials announced today they had uncovered evidence involving more than a million dollars in alleged "side payments" by South Carolina liquor retailers above invoice prices in order to obtain delivery of stocks from wholesalers.

The announcement was made in connection with the arrest of two Columbia liquor wholesalers on charges of conspiracy to violate ceiling prices.

SPAIN'S POSITION IN WAR TO BE DISCUSSED

LONDON, Nov. 19.—(INS)—The Turkish radio today stated that the question of Spain's position in the war would be discussed at the forthcoming meeting between President Franklin D. Roosevelt, Prime Minister Winston Churchill and Premier Joseph Stalin.

The Ankara radio, according to Reuter, then said "there is a possibility of a declaration of war against the Franco regime."

ENEMY SHIPPING HARD HIT

LONDON, Nov. 19.—(INS)—Exchange Telegraph today quoted official Cairo sources as announcing that British air and naval forces sank more than 36,000 tons of enemy shipping during Aegean operations.

The figure, according to the dispatch, does not include several hundred tons of small craft sunk during the Dodecanese battles.

NEWS AND VIEWS AT CAPITAL

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 19.—Congressional demands for an investigation of the nation's liquor industry coincided with a request by Democratic State Chairman David L. Lawrence that the $100,000,000 liquor monopoly operated by the State Liquor Control Board be scrutinized.

Chairman Fred T. Geider, a dry, has been accused of mismanagement since liquor stocks ebbed in the state and some doubt clouds the possibility of a reappointment by Gov. Edward Martin.

Geider's term expires November 29 and the governor has not yet decided whether to continue him on the board.

Geider's opponents claim he is unqualified to guide the state's liquor business because he is neither a businessman nor has had any experience in the industry.

The only member with Vintner's experience was the late Worrel Wagner.

Opponents of Geider's reappointment claim he was "scared" into liquor rationing at the last minute in an attempt to avoid another accusation of mismanagement.

Rationing of the state's slim whiskey stocks was long overdue before the board composed only of Geider and Veteran Politico W. Seagriff Stewart, adopted one of many plans it claims to have had under consideration.

For several weeks prior to rationing, the state's 579 liquor stores parceled out meagre supplies of whiskey daily, claiming no more was available.

Because no whiskey has been distilled in the nation since October 1942, there was little opposition.

On the initial day of rationing the stores were almost empty in most sections of the state because 3,000,000 consumers believed there was little or no whiskey in stock.

However, stores on the second day were jammed after the word was passed around that a variety of items was really on hand.

Simultaneously, the board was accused of hoarding supplies.

The board's answer was that it was preparing for rationing and wanted to assure an adequate supply of most brands.

However, the board has not denied that many of the popular brands will not be available for the holiday trade.

Seventy per cent of the whiskey, the only item rationed so far, will consist of a variety of brands and 30 per cent of one brand.

The board does not deny that the one brand "in good supply" is Kinsey.

An official explanation of the reason for Pennsylvania accumulating huge stocks of Kinsey at the expense of other states has never been given.

But Geider now insists that because of the criticism leveled at the brand the distiller has refused some Pennsylvania orders.

Biggest opposition to Kinsey seems to be the price.

Passes Sentence In Election Case

Court Imposes Fine And Jail Sentence Upon John H. Gross Sr. Today

John H. Gross, Sr., who pleaded guilty to charges of unlawfully causing false count of votes and unlawfully usurping the duties of a judge of elections was sentenced today in court room number one by Judge W. Walter Braham.

Mr. Gross was sentenced to pay $100 fine, the costs of the case and undergo imprisonment in the Lawrence county jail for six months. In addition he is prohibited from ever holding the office of constable or any other office of profit or trust. Further, he is disfranchised for four years and his voting registration card is to be removed from the files of the Permanent Registration Bureau.

The charges arose out of the primary election on September 14 when Mr. Gross was a candidate for the Republican nomination for constable of the second ward of New Castle. When the votes were being counted in the second precinct he took the place of the judge of elections and it is charged that he caused some 52 votes for himself instead of the candidate for whom they were cast, Peter Rupp. Mr. Rupp asked for a recount of the second precinct votes and the fraud was uncovered.

In passing sentence Judge Braham said, "this is the sort of thing we cannot countenance. It is impossible for people to govern themselves when elections are not fair." He then passed sentence.

Divorce Rate In England Jumps

Nearly 600 Per Cent Increase In Four Years Of War Reported

By LOWELL BENNETT

(U. S. S. Staff Correspondent)
LONDON—Four years of war with its uncertainties and excitements, have jumped this country's divorce rate by nearly six hundred percent. And it is still increasing.

A year before the war, divorces in Britain hovered between 200 and 250 a month. Today the rate is over a thousand.

Legislation has been initiated to make divorce even more difficult, and this has always been one of the toughest countries in the world in which to cut the proverbial nuptial knot.

Religious organizations have taken the platform to slow down the increase. Church sermons are being aimed more and more to emphasize the sanctity of marriage.

Government Steps In

The British government too is taking a hand. For several months a committee has been at work studying existing legal procedure which covers the divorce laws. The committee is also working out plans to speed up divorce cases which are clogging hundreds of courts all over the country.

Sociologists here blame the specter of divorce rate almost entirely on the war. But many of the wedlocks were already dead before the war, they say. But it took the change that war brought to make the partners realize it.

Chief reasons forwarded for the increase are:
False glamor associated with extra-marital "adventures" which has been given a spurt by the tremendous influx here of Allied, non-British, troops.

General excitement and restlessness caused by the war.

Multiple Separations

Forced separation—by conscription—of millions of married men, and women.
Evacuation of wives and families from their homes into "safe areas".
Increased financial independence of women because of the war-time employment.

The general uncertainty of life, and the consequent attitude "let's take all it has to offer."

Investigators into the problems surrounding the increase say it will probably continue. But the rate here is still something like one-seventh, in proportion to the population, of that in the United States. During 1941, in America, more than a quarter million divorce cases were recorded.

C.I.O.-ALUMINUM WORKERS TO SEEK BOOST IN WAGES

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 19.—(INS)—A steering committee of the C.I.O. Aluminum Workers of America today announced a drive for the elimination of the North-South wage differential and a general 15-cent-an-hour wage boost because of "the failure of our government to hold the line on the price front."

The recommendation, adopted unanimously by a conference of local union delegates representing more than 50,000 workers of the Aluminum Company of America, will be voted on by the local unions within the next few weeks.

YULE GIFTS POUR IN TO SOLDIERS AT PANAMA HEADQUARTERS. PANAMA CANAL, Nov. 19.—(INS)—Santa Claus, now familiar with wartime restrictions on travel and shipping, is taking no chances on leaving the GI socks of soldiers in the East. Artillery Command hanging limp and empty on Christmas morning.

Since October first more than 800 sacks of Christmas gifts, totaling approximately 80 tons in weight, have been distributed to the soldiers manning searchlight and anti-aircraft positions over the vast reaches of this area.

Capt. John D. Sheehan, chief postal officer of the Panama Canal Department, estimates that the coast artillerymen under the command of Maj. Gen. G. Ralph Meyer are receiving from three to five presents for each one they are sending north.

HONOR JACK SINGER

WILMINGTON, Calif., Nov. 19.—(INS)—Officials of the California Shipbuilding corporation announced today that a new liberty ship would be named for Jack Singer, International News Service war correspondent who lost his life while serving aboard the aircraft carrier Wasp.

The vessel honoring the brilliant 27-year-old reporter will be launched shortly before Christmas, the officials said.

Singer was killed when Japanese torpedoes sank the Wasp during a battle in the Solomons area in October 1942.

Nigeria is promoting the collection of palm kernels to meet demands growing from the shortage of fats and oils.

AROUND CITY HALL

Federal-owned fire fighting equipment loaned to the OCD may now be employed by the New Castle fire department to fight any fire that may develop, according to announcement. It is not necessary that the fire arise from an air raid. This is pleasing news because the OCD here has received considerable equipment. In fact, there are now nine extra pumps here.

They are stationed, ready to work as follows: Park avenue, trailer pump; Vine street, skid pump mounted on a truck; Ray street, trailer pump; Scioto street, trailer pump; Smithfield street, trailer pump (housed in a Ryantown garage); Cherry street, skid pump (housed in a garage); Central of S. Jefferson street, skid pump. In addition two other pumps are being prepared for service.

In addition to this equipment each pump has a roof and extension ladder; thousands of feet of standard 2½-inch hose and reducer hose with nozzles, pike poles, shovels, wrecking bars, fire axes first aid kits, lanterns, buckets and helmets for the fire-fighters.

Since the opening to traffic of East Washington street the city has realized $90 from speeders. However, the city does not want the money but does want speeding stopped. It would not be surprising were those arrested for speeding to have their names certified to the state as speeders which would prohibit them from driving for some time. The city police patrol the street at various periods and hope to eliminate speeding on the resurfaced section. While effort is being directed in East Washington street the speed "cops" can be expected to patrol other streets any time during the day or night according to reports.

Clarence Welsh, chairman of the music committee of the policemen's ball Thanksgiving night in the Cathedral, today announced the signing of Skippy Strahl and his band. According to reports he is characterized in professional circles as the young Glenn Miller. Miss Nancy Reed is the vocalist. The orchestra has been playing in various cities and no doubt has been heard by some local people in the Chatterbox of Pittsburgh.

He paid another of his frequent visits to the military hospital yesterday and, after handing out a slew of century notes to surprised and grateful patients, remarked calmly: "That's all boys. I've only got eleven cents left."

FIFTY-FIVE WACS ARRIVE IN NAPLES

Begin Duties At Fifth Army Headquarters; Sent From North Africa

By RICHARD TREGASKIS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
FIFTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Naples, Nov. 19.—A contingent of 55 bounding, bumptious WACS with two shepherding officers began their duties at Fifth Army Headquarters today following their arrival on Wednesday night.

A rapid pool of a few swift moving WACS who could be called to give a minute's interview, reveals that the girl-soldiers are delighted to come to Italy for more reasons than simply the job they will do in Fifth Army offices.

Many of them through a previous tour of duty in Africa have sweethearts in the Fifth Army Headquarters group.

Platoon Sergeant, Acting First Sergeant, Bertha Benninghoff of Minnesota, who has the job of shepherding the WACS, put it this way:

"Every now and then you hear a screech and the (several words deleted) were certainly glad to get back to Fifth Army HQ."

Miss Benninghoff said she liked Italy after Africa but found this country chilly. "We haven't had a chance to see any of the sights yet," she said pleasantly. "Too dark."

The military gals in brown arrived Wednesday night under cover of dark and made their way in slush to Fifth Army Headquarters. The weather was foggy and cold and they saw little of their new surroundings.

The proper expressions of disdain were visible on the faces of some of the headquarters soldier boys.

Said Pvt. Bob Criqueillon of Camonsburg, Pa., "they run for the chow line just like any other GI, only they make a lot more noise."

Canadian Built Bombers Operate Daily With R.A.F.

LONDON — (INS) — Light Mosquito bombers and heavy Lancaster night-raiders, built in Canada and flown nearly 4,000 miles to bases in Britain, are today operating with the R.A.F. in its aerial scouring of Germany and Occupied Europe, it is disclosed here.

A number of the Mosquitos have been employed by the U. S. Air Force here in Britain for test flights, but their main job is light daylight bombing.

The program to have Canadian-built bombers operate with the R.A.F. and thus ensure a replacement of even the heaviest battle losses was inaugurated more than two years ago.

Factories which had previously turned out light training planes were converted to building the giant Lancaster, heaviest and fastest bomber in the world.

The Mosquitos, built entirely of wood excepting the instrument panel and a number of joints and braces, required new factories and these were built in the record time of little more than six months. Some 8,000 blueprints were flown from British factories to Toronto so that an exact counterpart of the British-built machine could be made in Canada.

Today the first fruit on this long-term program is being realized. Today not only Canada's sons are flying on the aerial battle of Germany but the product of her aircraft factories are in the offensive too.

Gas Coupons Are Slashed In State

HARRISBURG, Nov. 19.—(INS)—The Harrisburg district OPA district revealed today that 14 local war price and rationing boards in the 10-county area have slashed gasoline coupons for approximately 5,725,620 miles of driving from over-issued rations.

The tailored coupons represented 381,708 gallons. Reports have still to be received from the 10 other ration boards in the district. The general review of gasoline rationing by boards is now in its fifth week.

"This tremendous reduction in gasoline rations does not reflect any criticism upon boards as, in most cases, the over-issuance was made in accordance with regulations," an OPA spokesman said.

The OPA said 65 per cent of the over-issuance of gasoline rations was found in "B" and "C" coupons and the remainder in non-highway rations.

ORDNANCE PLANT TO CLOSE
MILWAUKEE, Nov. 19.—(INS)—The Milwaukee Ordnance plant, one of the largest manufacturers of small arms ammunition in the country, will be completely shut down by December 31, it was announced Thursday.

The closing was ascribed to the fact that great reserves of finished ammunition already have been accumulated and that the needs of the nation's fighting forces constantly are changing.

Beware Coughs Following Flu

After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

AIR TRANSPORT COMMAND DOES MERCY ERRAND

ROCHESTER, Minn., Nov. 19.—(INS)—The U. S. Army Air Transport Command today performed another of its spectacular errands of mercy when it flew a youth, critically shot in the abdomen, from his Casper, Wyo., home to the Mayo clinic, in Rochester for an emergency operation.

The youth is Jerry Davis, 16, of Casper, who was accidentally shot in the abdomen yesterday. His family physician, Dr. G. O. Beach, realizing the lad's condition, appealed to Army officials for emergency transportation to fly Davis to Mayo Clinic, where a Dr. Dickson, described as the only physician capable of performing the delicate operation, was stationed.

Army officials at the Casper base referred the case to headquarters of the domestic transportation division of the ATC in New York City. Permission was granted to re-route a domestic cargo plane from its regular schedule to stop at Casper to pick up young Davis and fly him direct to Rochester.

The plane took off from Casper at 1:14 a. m. Thursday, sped at 200 miles per hour to Rochester, where it arrived at 7:01 a. m. The boy was placed in a waiting ambulance and taken immediately to the clinic. Use of the twin-engine Douglas C-53 cargo plane for the mercy flight was necessary because the boy's stretcher could not fit in a commercial plane.

The Indians of Peru used dehydration of vegetables, now extensively practiced, hundreds of years before the advent of Europeans. They applied it to potatoes at night and thawing them in the daytime.

Pent Up Demands Will Boost Postwar Business

By ROGER W. BARSON
(Copyright, 1943, Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 19.—The accuracy of any forecast for 1944 business depends upon whether we remain at war or whether hostilities in either of the two principal theatres suddenly cease. This possibility, I will not now discuss, but will do so in my annual 1944 forecast.

Outlook For Travel

Travel in general and long distance motoring have been set aside now for some time. The deferred travel desires on the part of the general public are reaching a high point. With the release of wartime pressure, with Pullman berths and plane seats again available and with the freeing of hotels and resorts by the military, the general public will start going places.

Many businessmen are planning trips abroad by boat or plane to the ends of their foreign interests. We are no longer an isolated nation. Our future is bound up with conditions in many other countries of the world. To have first-hand knowledge of what is happening in other countries will become a familiar part of our business techniques. I am bullish on travel agencies, on the sale of travel checks, on the resort business and on other lines allied to the great industry of public travel.

Residential Building

Certain war-industry areas in which housing is now at a premium may be liquidated at the war's end. Homes there may then be a drug on the market. However, the construction of new homes in other sections has long been stopped. Architects, contractors, supply companies and others interested in this field should look forward to considerable activity.

Whether the individual builds a new house, rents a new apartment, buys a new automobile, a new radio or travels will be based upon his purchasing power. For a while at least, this will be far greater than in pre-war days due to accumulated savings. As these are spent rather than saved, there will be a large demand for goods. This is particularly true of luxury and semi-luxury items. Retail outlets, inactive during the war, will take on a new importance.

Doctors, lawyers, beauty parlor

operators, specialty shop owners, gas station attendants and all who serve the requirements of the individual should be very busy. This especially applies to those businesses which have suffered during the war due to priorities, price fixing and rationing. They should have a good comeback.

Household servants will again be plentiful. They may, however, find themselves out of luck. Many families have been getting along without help. The trend of postwar living will be toward simplification aided by new and efficient household devices. The appliance business should be very active. This offers great opportunities in manufacturing and in distribution.

Retail Trade

I now see no signs of any slackening. The holiday trade will be good. The trend seems toward larger outlets. Concentrated shopping areas may be broken up. New suburban stores will be opened. This will avoid traffic congestion bound to be terrible. The trend in real estate development may also head toward the suburbs and actual countryside. This ties in with our coming simpler form of living.

Good retailers are always progressive. They were among the first to adopt the telephone and electric lights and to use motor vehicles for deliveries. They have an inexhaustible clientele. More than any group they mould our thoughts, lives and habits. They should continue to keep ahead of the times. The entire retail picture is most interesting. It offers many opportunities for merchants and investors.

New Products

Considerable research work is being done of an industrial and scientific nature to develop new products and bring together investors and manufacturers. It is necessary to supply retail and industrial markets with new gadgets. Their production may take the place of a large part of our present output of war materials. Industry is paying more attention to research departments today than ever before. The scientist, whatever his specialty, will be the "great man" of our postwar era.

Merchandising these new products will require large advertising campaigns. Newspapers, magazines and other forms of communicative media will be in demand. More people will be employed in distributive work. Side-tracked sales managers will again build up sales forces. We need, however, lower distribution costs. The costs of selling, not of manufacturing, have kept up the prices of retail goods. The reduction of such costs is becoming, however, a spiritual rather than an economic problem. I therefore, pray that the postwar era will be accompanied by a return to religion.

BANISH IDEA PEACE JUST AROUND CORNER

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—(INS)—Treasury Secretary Henry Morgenthau praised the work of advertising men in preparing the American people for total war and urged today that they increase efforts to banish the notion that victory is just around the corner.

In a speech to the wartime conference of the Association of National Advertisers, Morgenthau declared:

"Because of the Nazi promise through their propaganda bureau to fold up, and because we'd like to get on with the peace, too many of us are getting eager to sidetrack the main job."

Morgenthau said "no one in Washington can give me any concrete evidence that Germany is tottering on the brink of capitulation."

WARNS AGAINST FARM LAND BOOM

Secretary Wickard Says Nation In 'Great Danger' Of Farm Land Boom

CLEVELAND, Nov. 19.—(INS)—Secretary of Agriculture Wickard warned today that the United States is in "great danger" from a farm land boom which already is underway and said that land values in this war have increased at the World War I rate.

"Today we are in great danger from a farm land boom which is already underway and unless we do something about it soon we are going to build up future headaches for farmers and their families," Wickard said.

Wickard reiterated his plea for a "special" tax on speculative land sales to halt an inflationary spiral in farm prices.

Estimating the number of farms lost by forced sale since 1920 at two million, Wickard stated that "this means the equivalent of one-fourth to one-third of all land in farms has gone through forced sale in the last 22 years."

Farm mortgage indebtedness, he said, is now estimated at about 80 per cent of what it averaged from 1935 to 1939—"which indicates that farmers are getting into a better situation regarding mortgaged land."

Johnson Triplets Have Fifth Birthday

Well-Known Triplets Quietly Observe Anniversary With Small Gathering

Another birthday—their fifth—has rolled around for New Castle's well-known triplets—Clara Mae, Gertrude Ann and Thomas Matthew Johnson, which today they are quietly observing with a small gathering of their close friends at their home.

The triplet youngsters of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Johnson, Prospect streets, South New Castle Boro, were born five years ago in the New Castle hospital, and since that time their growth and activities have been the interest of many in the city.

According to their mother, Mrs. Johnson, the triplets are very active—sometimes too much so. They are also hearty eaters as one can readily see when the scales read: Clara Mae—41 pounds; Gertrude Ann—40 pounds; and Thomas Matthew—who tips the scales at 42 pounds.

The triplets' favorite pastime is to sing, starting patriotically with the "Star Spangled Banner," and from then on, anything including hillbilly songs to popular tunes. Another favorite pastime they enjoy is to "dress up and play house." Clara Mae, Gertrude Ann and Thomas Matthew were very excited this afternoon when their friends called to attend the small party and share with them the much-loved chocolate cake and ice cream treat.

For the occasion the girls wore their new plaid skirts and white ruffled blouses. Thomas Matthews was the "big, little" man in long pants, and wearing a long tie, "just like daddy's." Others of the vicinity also called to greet the tots.

SEES GREAT DEMAND FOR MERCHANT MARINE IN POSTWAR PERIOD

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—(INS)—The postwar task of the greatly expanded American Merchant Marine was pictured today as even greater than its war-time job.

Frank J. Taylor, president of the American Marine Institute, said that even though the United States merchant fleet at the end of the war will be larger than that of all other countries combined, it still will be hard pressed to fulfill demands upon it.

"International trade will exceed anything the world has ever known," he said. "There will be devastated areas to feed, there will be essential goods to be sent to them, there will be luxury items of a great quantity for the use of those peoples who have been starved out of them for so long."

Says 500 Planes Could Drive The Japs From China

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 19.—(INS)—An umbrella of 500 planes could successfully drive the Japanese completely out of China, says Carl Peprud, who has spent the last 30 years in Chungking, Hongkong, Shanghai and way points.

The necessary gasoline and bombs for the planes could be flown to Chungking from the head of the Brahmaputra river in India, a distance of only 550 miles by air. However, says Peprud, the Japs will never really be licked until the idea of divine origin is knocked out of their heads. This conviction that Japanese are not ordinary humans, but stem from the divine will prolong the war for several years. When the war is over, Peprud believes that the Japanese emperor should be eliminated because of his link with the divine right idea.

An agent for the Chungking government for several years, Peprud disguised himself as a city health service ambulance driver when the Japs invaded Hongkong. He managed to get back to the United States on the Gripsholm's first prisoner-exchange trip. A Chungking agent for commercial and financial affairs in the Orient, Peprud is still representing the Chungking government at Washington, D. C., studying tariff and trade matters.

Reveal Heavy Nazi Casualties At Leros Island

CAIRO, Nov. 19.—(INS)—British defenders of Leros, fallen Dodecanese island, were revealed today to have inflicted more casualties on the Germans than the total number of British troops employed.

Gen. Sir Henry Maitland Wilson, commander of the British forces in the middle east, disclosed that the Nazis used 2,500 men in their assault on the island, fall of which was announced Wednesday.

The enemy casualties included many drowned at sea in the costly storming of the little outpost in the Aegean sea.

"Our losses are replaceable," the British commander declared, "but German losses were final."

Arguments and complaints end the moment we forget self and realize that nothing matters now except winning the war.

SAYS FOOD SUPPLY WILL BE ADEQUATE

Director Of Food Distribution Tells Dairymen That Next Year's Supply Will Be Adequate

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 19.—(INS)—Roy P. Hendrickson, director of food distribution, WFA, assured dairymen Thursday that they will have an "adequate" if not "bountiful" food supply in 1944.

In a speech prepared for delivery before the Dairymen's League Cooperative Association, Hendrickson disclosed that civilians will receive 75 per cent of the estimated total U. S. food supply during the next 12 months.

"The American diet in 1944, though differing somewhat in composition, will be about the same in quantity and in nutritive value as that of 1943 and above the average pre-war diet if crops are favorable," he declared.

Civilians will have about the same quantity of white potatoes, rice and canned vegetables in the next 12 months as in the 1935-39 period," he continued, "and more meat, eggs, sweet potatoes, citrus fruits and dried peas and beans."

"We hope this will be true of milk, too," Hendrickson said.

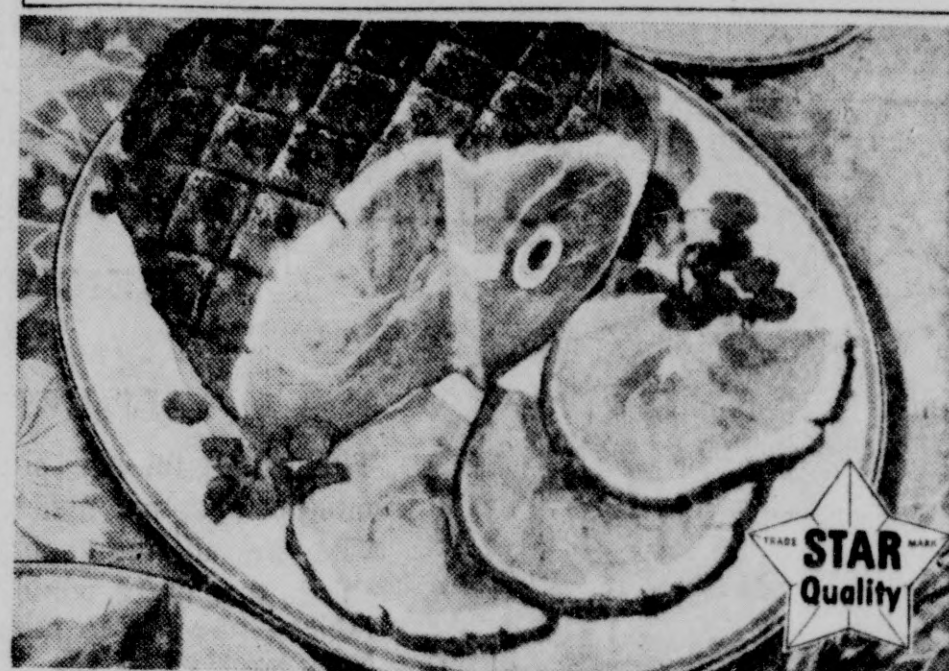

Hendrickson revealed that the United States will, during the 12 months beginning Oct. 1, 1943, send 670,000 long tons of meat to Great Britain through lend-lease, most of it pork.

Armour Ideas Make the Most of Meat

Barbecued Star Ham—It's Extra Zesty!

A good cook gets extra zest into every meal. And that's why Barbecued Ham and Cabbage is a good cook's favorite! For a tangy sauce points up the fine flavor of hickory smoked ham. Ask for the shank or butt half of a Star Ham weighing about 5-6 pounds. (Ample for a big dinner and three or four leftover dishes, too.) We recommend Armour's Star Ham because it's mellowed in fragrant hickory smoke... is deliciously tender. Wrap ham in waxed paper and set on rack in open roasting pan. Roast in 325° F. oven 25 minutes to the pound. Remove paper and rind, score fat in squares and brush with this barbecue sauce: Mix and heat together 2 tbsps. butter, 1 chopped onion, 1/2 tsp. pepper, 3 tbsps. sugar, 2 tbsps. dry mustard, 3 tbsps. Worcestershire Sauce, 2 tbsps. Tabasco sauce, 1 cup catsup, 1/4 cup vinegar and 1/4 cup water. Return ham to oven to glaze. Add second coat of sauce 15 minutes later. Serve with extra barbecue sauce and wedges of cooked fresh cabbage.

REVIEW EATING HABITS OF NATION

No Nutritional Crisis in Nation Today And None Is Likely, Says Expert

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—(INS)—The nation's wartime eating habits, as observed through the eyes of science, were reviewed Wednesday before the Institute of Medicine of Chicago.

Dr. Frank L. Gunderson of Washington, D. C., executive secretary of the food and nutrition board of the National Research Council, declared there is no nutritional crisis in the nation today and there probably will be none.

"In spite of the many shortages of certain foods in certain localities during the last year or two," Dr. Gunderson said, "the people of the United States as a whole have fared very well nutritionally."

"The major question is how much we can push our production beyond the present requirements for civilians, military needs and for lend-lease and relief operations."

Food requirements on both civilian and military fronts in this war are being calculated on the basis of nutritional content instead of in terms of pounds as in World War I. Dr. Gunderson pointed out.

Well-founded estimates, he continued, "show that despite partial shortages of certain foods which are particular favorites, the overall dietetic quality of foods is considerably better than it was in the pre-war period."

He attributed the improved consumption to several factors, "among which are the improved economic status of many people" as well as to improved nutrition through enriched flour and bread and the fact that rationing helps to accomplish more equitable distribution.

Carmen Miranda To Go To Brazil

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Nov. 19.—(INS)—To get back her strength after her long illness, Carmen Miranda, Latin film star, is planning a trip to South America, she said today.

The actress, close to death when she was taken off a train in St. Louis several months ago, wants to take at least a six month's rest, most of it in her native Brazil.

Pin-Up Girls Are Torn Down

DETROIT, Nov. 19.—(INS)—Student soldiers at the University of Detroit tore down their pin-up girls today.

And just because a pretty U. of D. coed told them where to get off.

Soph. Mary Sullivan wrote an editorial in the school newspaper which the 400 army trainees say "brought us into line."

"The pin-up fad is an insult to any decent boy in the service," Mary wrote in the Varsity News. "It is making a farce out of what our United States Army and Navy really stand for."

Besides, she added, the pictures passed on locker doors and on notebooks really looked silly.

Marienville Fire Is Fatal To Two

MARIENVILLE, Nov. 19.—(INS)—Mrs. David Cochran, 54, and her 10-year-old grandchild, Iola Hilver, were burned to death Thursday in a fire which destroyed their home two miles from Marienville and caused serious injuries to Mrs. Cochran's husband. Two other persons escaped.

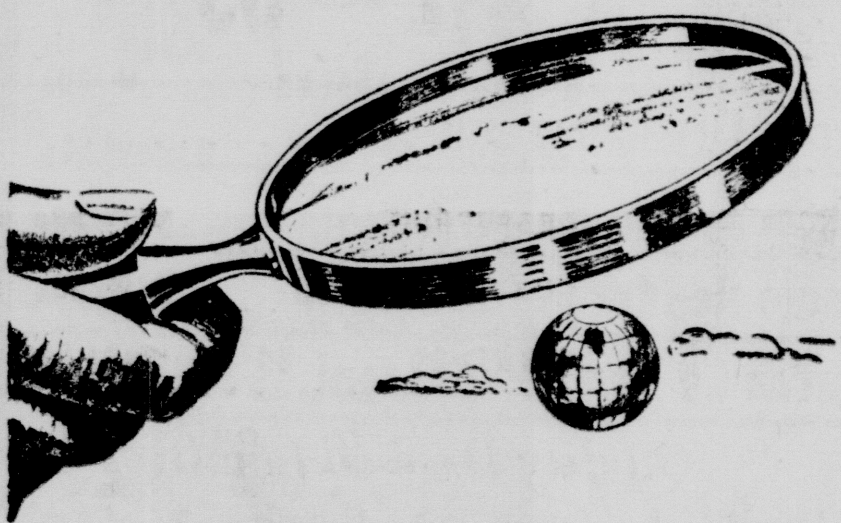

Cochran, who was taken to Ridge-way hospital, told police he was attempting to light the kitchen stove when a can of oil he was using exploded. His clothing caught fire and he rushed from the building, he related, but the frame structure was a mass of flames, nevertheless, by the time he put out his own clothing.

Mrs. Cochran and the girl were on the second floor of the house at the time and could not be awakened. A son, Arlen, 20, and a grandson, James, 14, escaped by leaping from a window.

The first millionaire in this country is said to have been Stephen Girard, a French sailor who settled in Philadelphia in 1772 and established himself as a wine merchant on a small scale, when he died in 1832 his estate amounted to 10 million dollars.

CINDERELLA GIRL SCORES BIG HIT ON BROADWAY

NEW YORK—A new Cinderella girl has come to Broadway in the person of Terry Holmes, young actress, who scored a sensational overnight success in "Manhattan Nocturne," the drama by Roy Walling in which Eddie Dowling is currently starred at the Forrest Theatre.

Actually Miss Holmes had been quietly groomed for her Broadway debut over a period of three years by Edith Gordon, one of the top agents of the big city. It was John Colton, author of "Rain," who had initially brought her to the attention of Miss Gordon.

She was first given a small part in "The Male Animal" with the repertory company at Sayville Long Island, and made so great an impression that she soon was essaying with distinction the chief feminine role in "Mr. and Mrs. North."

Unlike most stock actresses who rush forthwith to Broadway to win fame and fortune, Miss Holmes heeded the advice of her faithful counsellor Miss Gordon, and remained with the Sayville repertory group a second season. Movie scouts tried to lure her to Hollywood, but the young actress spurned their offers in favor of further stage schooling, going last summer to Worcester for a season of plays with the Drama Festival.

It was some two months ago that Walter Drey, husband of Edith Gordon, read Roy Walling's "Manhattan Nocturne," and envisaged Terry Holmes as the girl in this powerful play of regeneration. He offered the stellar role to Eddie Dowling, the job of directing to Stella Adler and the drama came to life at the Forrest Theatre under his own and Jules Ziegler's management. The rest is now Broadway history.

"I just can't believe it," is all Miss Holmes can say with regard to the many tributes written about her acting.

Stella Adler, however, has something else to say. "She absorbs direction like a sponge. She's just a natural born actress and has an instinctive feel for everything theater."

Civil War Vet Is 101 Years Old

BRADFORD, Pa., Nov. 19.—Erastus R. Barton of nearby Duke Center, McKean county's only surviving Civil War veteran, will celebrate his one hundred and first birthday anniversary next Sunday. A reception, sponsored by the United Brethren church of Duke Center, will be held at the Barton home today.

Born in 1842 in Greenwood, Steuben county, N. Y., Mr. Barton moved to Eldred with his family at the age of three. He has spent the greater part of his life in Eldred, Farmers Valley, Rixford and at Duke Center.

He was 23 years old at the time of the Civil War and he enlisted at Smithport in the infantry, Company C, Two Hundred and Eleventh Volunteers, and fought under General Grant.

SCHOOL CLUB HEARS MRS. RUTH HIGGINS

Members of the Business Efficiency club of the senior high school heard Mrs. Ruth Higgins, secretary of the Greater New Castle Association staff, discuss problems and responsibilities of the secretary in the business world at a meeting of the club at the high school on Thursday evening.

In January the club will have its semester dinner at The Castleton which it is anticipated many alumnae members of the club will attend.

BRIEF NEWS OVER STATE

(International News Service)
SANDTIS EDDY—Isador Sepack porter at Mineral Springs hotel in Sandt Eddy, was a hero today because he's a good catcher. Sepack caught five members of Walter Gair's family as they dropped 12 feet from the second story of their burning home.

HARRISBURG—Arthur Murray has six medals—but they aren't from dancing contests. Murray, a second lieutenant in the air corps, has piloted a P-40 through 50 missions in the Mediterranean area "without a scratch a bullet hole or engine trouble." Five oak leaf clusters and an air medal tell the story.

PITTSBURGH—Pfc. Eugene P. Hopkins of Pittsburgh met WAC Pvt. Mabel I. Trent on Friday, had a date with her on Saturday and married her on Sunday.

SEWICKLEY—When the Reynolds married they formed a naval partnership. Yeoman Helen C. Reynolds will succeed her husband in the navy's weather bureau at Washington when Chief Yeoman John R. Reynolds goes to sea.

NEW BRIGHTON—Both Peter Ciganik, 17, of New Brighton and the manager of a local bowling alley regret that Peter is such a brawny boy. Ciganik crashed thru the floor of the alley and fractured his arm while bowling.

PHILIPSBURG—The flip of a coin may decide who will be Centre county's third commissioner. Candidates Fred C. Mensch and Charles F. Hipple tied with 5,484 votes apiece. Unless a soldier vote is received, a coin will be tossed.

WILKES-BARRE—A sailor's dog waiting at a Wilkes-Barre bus station for his master to return was being fed today on two weeks' ration points and a $5 donation of a Pittsburgh woman. The woman read about the animal and sent her contribution. Her husband is in the army, she said, and she has only a Persian cat "for comfort."

PITTSBURGH—Even the Germans may be persuaded. Take the case of Corp Jack F. Stewart. Captured by the Italians in the battle for Sicily, Stewart was taken to Germany. In a letter to his wife, Mrs. Genevieve Stewart, he explained that he told the Germans his watch and Bible were given to him by his wife. After considering his appeal, the Nazis permitted him to keep both articles.

AFFECTS HIM TOO
PITTSBURGH, (INS)—One of those hit by the coal shortage in Pittsburgh is Philip Murray, president of the CIO and former vice-president of the United Mine Workers of America. Murray was unable to get a coal order filled by his local dealer.

Although Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Dungan, of 419 Newell avenue, will not observe their 55th wedding anniversary until Nov. 22, the occasion was celebrated informally with a family gathering, Thursday evening, due to the fact that their youngest son, Charles W. Dungan, leaves for the army tonight.

All the members of the family were present except Mrs. E. F. Rhodes of Los Angeles, Calif., and Ralph of Edinburg, Texas. The other six children are: Mrs. Jessie Dickson, of Edinburg; Mrs. Elizabeth Scowden, Mrs. Helen Alexander, Herbert and Harvey, at home, and Charles W., of New Castle.

On the anniversary date of his wedding, Mr. Dungan will observe his 80th birthday also. He is quite active for his age, and last winter,

Few British In Samos Landing

LONDON, Nov. 19.—(INS)—The German propaganda agency DNB asserted today that all British forces have been withdrawn from the island of Samos in the Aegean sea.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—(INS)—The Evening Standard in a dispatch from Cairo today quoted a spokesman for the Royal Navy as stating that the British occupation of Samos island in the Dodecanese was effected by one officer and 16 men who went in aboard a motor launch.

They were met by Greek irregulars who cheered their arrival, it was added.

PRICE CEILINGS FOR ORANGES, LEMONS AND GRAPEFRUIT ARE SET

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—(INS)—The Office of Price Administration brought oranges, lemons and grapefruit under retail price ceilings today.

The new ceilings, which will reduce prices an estimated 10 to 15 per cent over last winter's levels, will be accompanied without subsidies and will become effective within a week or 10 days.

Under the new schedule, oranges will sell at 95 cents per pound, grapefruit, 8 cents per pound, and lemons, 135 cents per pound.

Rulings Relaxed By Labor Board

Seek To Ease Manpower Shortage Hampering Railroads In State

By TONY ZECCA
(N. & S. Staff Correspondent)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 19.—The State Department of Labor and Industry relaxed labor rulings affecting women today to ease the manpower shortage hampering railroads.

Secretary William H. Chesnut disclosed that the state industrial board has adopted "war duration" regulations which "give the railroads more latitude to make up for the personnel being taken by the armed services."

The board passed one regulation enabling women to act as messengers or "call boys" for train crews, providing the calling is done mechanically.

Another major change which was approved was the relaxing of the ruling prohibiting women from operating trucks for railroads. Chesnut said that exceptions may now be granted for women over 21 where there are sufficient safeguards.

A third change permits minors between 16 and 18 to work at such occupations as window cleaning providing the windows are on ground levels. This was seen as a great help to the railroads for they will now be able to use older help at other jobs.

Chesnut explained that the changes had been requested by the railroads, which were hard-pressed for personnel. "We've got to keep the railroads running in order to get vital war material to the seaboard for shipment overseas," he declared.

He emphasized that the relaxed rulings were "only for the duration of the war and they will not hamper railroad efficiency or inflict any hardships on the women workers."

SAFETY ON FARM DRIVE IS URGED

HARRISBURG, Nov. 19.—Because of the serious shortage of farm labor and the inevitable loss in man hours as the result of farm accidents, Miles Horst, Pennsylvania secretary of agriculture, today recommended that farm operators during the winter months make such building and equipment repairs and changes as will bring about reduction in causes of accidents on the farm and in farm homes.

All broken or wobbly steps, ladders, floors, porches and hand rails should be repaired or replaced, the secretary declared. Many haymows are death traps where only a hole without a railing or ladder is provided. Old, weak, sway-backed buildings should be repaired or torn down. Many barn doors and floors may be in such condition that serious accidents can result. Tractors and other pieces of farm machinery and equipment with movable parts should be equipped as far as possible with safety guards and devices that will help to avoid accidents, he added.

"I certainly favor the suggestion of the Pennsylvania Rural Home and Farm Safety committee that all farm organizations meeting in Harrisburg for annual sessions January 18 to 20, devote some program time to farm and home safety," Secretary Horst said. "One of the most interested groups is the Society of Farm Women of Pennsylvania."

Huge Decrease In State Apple Crop

HARRISBURG, Nov. 19.—(INS)—The State Department of Agriculture disclosed today that drought damage to this year's commercial apple crop in Pennsylvania resulted in a decrease of 4,961,000 bushels, with production estimated at 5,070,000 bushels.

The federal-state crop reporting service said on July 1 the condition of the commercial apple crop was 49 per cent of normal. Lack of rainfall, which continued through September, caused such a reduction in the size of fruit that the November 1 survey showed only 39 per cent of a full crop.

TAXES COME THROUGH
PITTSBURGH—(INS)—There is nothing as certain as taxes, one U. S. doughboy discovered recently even when you're stationed in Iran. Allegheny County Treasurer John J. McLean got a letter from Private A. D. Kimmel of Gibsonia, now with the AEP in the Middle East. In the letter was enclosed a check for $5.15 to pay property taxes on a small piece of land owned by the soldier. Included in the check was three cents to cover postage on the receipt to be mailed back to Kimmel.

Study Chance Of State Tax Decrease

HARRISBURG, Nov. 19.—(INS)—The possibility of recommending legislation to the 1945 general assembly for decreasing Pennsylvania's tax burden was being studied today by a legislative fact-finding committee.

Rep. Edwin S. Winner (R) Montgomery, chairman of a tax study sub-committee of the joint state government commission, said a "most comprehensive study" was being made of the state's tax structure.

"Our ultimate goal is to make definite recommendations to the next session for revamping the tax structure through simplification and possible reduction," he declared. The committee has been offered the aid of the State Chamber of Commerce and the Pennsylvania Economy League.

BOOKMARKS GIVEN LIBRARY
Borrowers of books from the public library now find in the books they take out new bookmarks presented by the Lawrence County Tuberculosis Association.

"While we expect the books to be returned to the library, it's a case of 'finders, keepers,' with the bookmarks," said Miss Alice Sterling, librarian.

Each year, Miss Sterling said, the local tuberculosis association gives the library a supply of these attractive little bookmarks. This year's she considers the most attractive of all. "Some of our patrons collect these bookmarks and we have taken care of their requests first. The rest go to our book borrowers."

TIDAL WAVE OF REPUBLICANISM SWEEPS NATION

So Declares E. R. Whitla, Vice Chairman Of G.O.P. National Committee On Visit Here

"There is a tidal wave of Republicanism sweeping over the United States which in my opinion will result in a landslide victory for the Republican party in November of 1944," declared Ezra R. Whitla, vice chairman of the Republican National committee to a group of Republicans attending a luncheon in his honor in The Castleton hotel Thursday at noon. Mr. Whitla is an attorney and ranch owner of Cour D'Alene, Id., and was in New Castle Thursday visiting Judge and Mrs. W. Walter Braham, cousins of his.

"There is a reason for this," said Mr. Whitla. "The people of the United States are awakening to the fact that the deficit spending of the present administration is leading inevitably towards national bankruptcy unless it is stopped. Banker and laborer alike are aghast at the reckless spending of money and now know that you just cannot spend yourself out of debt."

"Let it be understood that the criticism of the Republican party leveled at the present national administration is by no means a suggestion that the Republican party is not back of the war effort. We are one hundred per cent back of the war but we believe that better judgment could be used in the handling of money, in handling domestic problems and in the writing of the peace terms."

"The results in Kentucky and New York in the recent election were beyond our expectations. We felt that victory was possible but to our delight the results were an overwhelming endorsement of Republican principles. The same story is true over the entire country and this indicates to those of us upon the national committee that victory is assured in 1944 if we press our advantages."

Mr. Whitla was presented to the group of Republicans by Captain Roger W. Roland, chairman of the Lawrence County committee. In acknowledging the introduction Mr. Whitla paid tribute to the two national committee members from Pennsylvania, Mason Owlett and Mrs. Marjorie Scranton.

JAP THREAT TO INDIA IS SMALL

By JAMES E. BROWN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW DELHI, Nov. 19.—"We now have the Japanese under control as far as a threat to India is concerned."

This was the statement of Brig. Gen. Caleb V. Haynes, 47 years old of Mount Airy, N. C., on his way home after two years of foreign service.

"We find that the standard for the Japanese air force is dropping off as far as personnel is concerned, but their airplanes are improving in horsepower and speed," he added.

Brig. Gen. Haynes himself flew refugees from Burma using the one available field, and he established the initial air link between Assam and China.

He was sent to China as chief of our first bomber command and personally led our first raid on Hongkong in which we shot down 18 out of 22 Zeros losing only one B-25 and one P-40.

"We have supremacy in the air over Burma," he declared, "but enemy air field construction in Central and South Burma is increasing."

Brig. Gen. Haynes, who is making his 8th crossing of the Atlantic on his return trip, said his wife is working in the drafting department of Sperry Co., in Garden City, L. I. He has a son, 14, who is now in high school. He does not know whether he will return to the China-Burma-India theatre after he reports to Washington.

New Substance May Replace Use Of Blood Plasma

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—(INS)—Discovery of a new substance, produced from milk, which may replace the use of blood plasma in treatment of war wounded and peacetime patients was disclosed today.

A process for extracting "casein acid hydrolysate" from whole milk, discovered by Prof. Raymond Jonnard, staff scientist of the Warner Institute for Therapeutic Research in New York, is 20 to 50 times less costly than the plasma extraction process, according to the inventor.

Milk proteins in the casein extract, which may be taken through transfusion or by mouth, could check the sometimes fatal shock caused by heavy loss of blood.

There are 52 species and subspecies of rays and skates in American coastal waters.

DOG BRINGS AID

CHESTER, Pa.—(INS)—Davis W.
Morris, a Sun Oil company pumper is grateful to an Alsatian police dog named "Lady". The dog, an army-duty, found Morris unconscious next a 30-foot high tank from which he had fallen, and summoned help.

THEY'RE BACK

Loaded with a lot of stories but not bear, the bear hunting court house attaches are home, with the exception of County Detective Charles D. Ross. Ross stayed in the bear country to try and track down a big black bear that gave him the bird one afternoon. They can't det that to Ross.

Deputy Sheriff Thomas O'Brien had a narrow escape from getting a bear hug. Deputy County Treasurer Don Neal was beating the bushes trying to coax a bear out to get a shot when there was a roar and a rush in the thicket back of O'Brien. A bear came charging out and missed O'Brien by the short distance of a couple of yards.

Started for the moment Tommy didn't get his gun up in time and the bear jitter bugged up a hill. A moment later another hunter brought the bear down only to find it was under age. It cost the hunter $25.

P. S. The bear steak dinner which was tentatively set for the court house employees is postponed for a year. Deputy County Controller Andrew M. Dadds stated late today.

Plan Warfare On Profiteering On Holiday Turkeys

HARRISBURG, Nov. 19.—(INS)—The Office of Price Administration launched a strict enforcement campaign today to ward off wartime profiteering on holiday turkeys.
District Enforcement Attorney Charles J. Ware disclosed that the New York regional office ordered a rigid campaign to maintain ceiling prices.
"Anticipating a critical pre-holiday shortage of turkeys creating a difficult price situation, OPA has instituted an enforcement drive, effective immediately, to see that whatever turkeys are available are not sold above ceiling prices," he declared.
He explained that "for the next 10 days enforcement and price division representatives will be assigned to surveillance of turkey sales principally at wholesale, and wherever turkeys are unavailable attention will be directed to heavy chickens."
Typical evasions, he pointed out, include "cash on the side, upgrading and upweighting." OPA will also watch farmers who sell at retail to wholesalers or retailers, he said.

FAILS TO CONVINCE JURY BY ACTING AS OWN ATTORNEY

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 19.—(INS)—The Cleveland parolee who has spent 21 years of his 40 years in jail, today was appearing for the third time as his own attorney after marking up two failures to free himself on robbery charges.
Walter Clark was found guilty in criminal court in Pittsburgh yesterday and sentenced to prison for 9 to 18 years when the jury, which was unconvinced by his eloquent pleas, convicted him of the $100 hold-up of a Pittsburgh cafe in September.
Last week he was given a 10 to 20-year penitentiary term on conviction of a $45 robbery in a hotel also last September.
Today Clark goes on trial for a similar stickup of another cafe.

Leros Campaign Gets Criticism

LONDON, Nov. 19.—(INS)—Britain's "Aegean adventure" is over and its primary purpose to outflank Rhodes, Scarpento and Crete has failed, the Cairo correspondent of the London Evening Standard wrote today.
The campaign which lasted over two and one-half months has ended in defeat, he said in reference to loss of Leros island to a sea and air-borne German invasion force.
The London Press in general criticized the handling of the Leros campaign.
The weekly magazine "Spectator," called the "abandonment" of Leros

"deplorable," and declared that "public opinion will not be satisfied until the whole question of the fiasco at Cos, Leros and Samos is cleared up."
Failure of the Allies "to make any moves in the Balkans is causing growing perplexity and uneasiness," the magazine said.

New Castle-Warren Play Here Saturday Afternoon

'Canes Are Favored In Eleventh Meeting With Husky Ohioans

Stadium Kickoff At 2:15; Nine Local Athletes To Finish Grid Careers

Football takes a seat in the back row here after New Castle high tackles Harding high of Warren, O., on Taggart stadium's turf, Saturday afternoon. The opening boot heads skyward at 2:15 o'clock.

The 11th date between the rivals, originally scheduled for last Saturday, was postponed by local officials.

Seek Eighth Win

New Castle dashes across the stripes boasting of seven triumphs, a loss to Clairton and a tie with Youngstown East. The beefy Ohioans, victorious three times, setback on three occasions and deadlocked twice, nevertheless, rank as a stiff foe.

Playing at home and well-rested, the 'Canes have been installed as favorites.

No less than nine localities, Newman Robert Preston, Sanfilippo, Rousos, Joseph, Izzo, Liebenorfer, Lewis and McKee perform in the red and black togs for the last time.

According to sideline operatives, New Castle may unveil its T-formation. The localities have been toying with Clark Shaughnessy's system since the opening of the campaign. If the 'Canes try the new, it will be interesting to note how a New Castle team functions minus the sound and not so colorful Warner system installed here many years ago.

Visitors Jinx

The red and black wearers seek their first win over the Ohioans since 1940. In '41, the Harding boys spoiled a perfect season for the 'Canes and handed the Bridenbaughs their only setback of the year last season, 7-6.

Warren has played a sturdy row of foes, engaging Girard, Woodrow Wilson, Youngstown Rayon, Youngstown East, Massillon, Campbell Memorial, Canio McKinley and Niles. The invaders have piled up 114 points to 83 for the opposition.

Offensively and defensively, the records show an edge for the locals. New Castle has marked up 151 points and checked the other side to a mere 25.

The additional rest should benefit both squads, physically if in no other way. Taggart stadium's gates will be opened at 1 o'clock.

INDUSTRIAL LOOP MOGULS TO MEET

Plans will be furthered for the organization of a City Industrial Basketball league during a meeting on the third floor of the City building, tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

All industrial plants desiring to enter the circuit are asked to send representatives to the session.

Anthony Conn, who has been active in cage circles here for many years, today said that the league has been granted permission by the school board to use Ben Franklin floor and that at least six teams expect to compete in the loop. Officers will be elected.

REVERSE PLAN

As a rule there is an oversupply of ambitious backs and the coach makes linemen of them. But at Illinois this year Ray Elliot tries the reverse. Jack Kane and Pete Perez, tackles are halfbacks.

Joe Di Maggio Will Pay Wife $500 Monthly

Alimony Entanglements Settled Out Of Court; Joe Now Sergeant

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 19.—(INS)—The DiMaggio divorce suit was shorn of its alimony entanglements today as Joe, baseball's king of the outfield, managed to settle out of court with his estranged wife the former Dorothy Arnold of the screen.

Scheduled to appear before Superior Judge William S. Baird yesterday, Joe agreed to pay her $500 a month plus $1,000 cash pending trial of her divorce suit.

The only one consequently, to appear before Judge Baird was Attorney Stanley A. Phipps, counsel for Mrs. DiMaggio, who filed a stipulation which he said had been signed by DiMaggio shortly before the scheduled hearing.

Under terms of the stipulation the former slugger for the New York Yankees and Mrs. DiMaggio agreed not to dispose of any of their property and not to take the child Joseph Paul, from the state. Joe is a sergeant in the army attached to the air corps base at Santa Ana, Calif.

Pennsy Hare Season Opening On Monday

HARRISBURG, Nov. 18.—(INS)—The state game commission reported today that the hare or snowshoe rabbit hunting season opens Monday and will continue for the remainder of the week with prospects of "reasonably good hunting."

The commission reminded hunters that although the bag limit of two day and six a season may not sound very liberal, one hare equals several average-sized rabbits.

Meanwhile the commission reported "good kills already made and better ones to come" for sportsmen tracking down bears during the week-long season which ends Saturday night.

Officials claimed that "there is every reason to believe the present excellent hunting conditions, especially the fine tracking snow, will hold until the end of the season."

Army-Navy Tilt Remains At Point

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Football's annual Army-Navy game will be played at West Point, N. Y., on Saturday, Nov. 27.

Under-Secretary of War Patterson has rejected Representative Sam Weiss' (Pennsylvania) plea that the classic be played in a metropolitan area, it was announced today.

Playing the contest in Baltimore, Philadelphia or New York would be incongruous with the war effort, it was pointed out.

His Team Clicks

JOE MANIACI, former Fordham university backfield star and later a pro standout with the Chicago Bears, is proving a highly successful coach at the Bainbridge, Md., Naval Training station. Maniaci's team is undefeated and has run up big scores on all opponents. Included among his players are former pro stars. (International)

Akron Fight Show Winds Up In Court

AKRON, O., Nov. 19.—(INS)—Legal action came today in the wake of a 10-round Akron boxing match in which Frankie Willis, of Washington, defeated George Doty, of Hartford, Conn.

Fritz Zivic was scheduled to meet Doty, but because of a cut below his eye was not allowed to fight. Willis substituted for him and led the Hartford redhead from the start.

Zivic refereed the bout and Barney Ross, now a Marine sergeant and a hero of Guadalcanal, raised $12,000 in a war bond auction for the gloves with which he won the welterweight championship in 1935.

The fight card went on despite efforts of Mayor George J. Harter and the Akron boxing commission to stop it. Harter ordered the permit for the show lifted, but the promoters obtained a court injunction, restraining the city from stopping the show.

Harter said he would order the arrest of the promoters today on charges of violating state laws in going through with the fight.

Montreal Wins Eighth Straight

Over 11,000 See Hockey Fray Chicago Wallops Boston Bruins, 7-3

(International News Service) Chicago moved into second place in the National Hockey League today after the Black Hawks walloped Boston last night and the former holders of the number two spot, the Toronto Maple Leafs, gave the Montreal Canadiens their eighth straight victory.

The Bruins fell to the Chicago club 7 to 3 in the Hawks' second victory over the Bears in eight days. Out of the fray Bill Mosienko and Doug Bentley managed to keep their spots as the league's top-scoring men.

The Montreal club down Toronto 5 to 2 before a huge crowd of more than 11,000 spectators last night in what was regarded as a test game for the league leaders.

In New York the lowly Rangers took another pasting last night for their eighth straight loss when the Detroit Red Wings downed them 3 to 1.

Lions Strengthened For Panther Tussle

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 19.—(INS)—The Penn State Lions could be more optimistic today over their annual grid battle with the Pitt Panthers tomorrow in Pittsburgh knowing that left tackle Red Moore, from Rochester, and Fullback Allen Richards from Miamisburg, would be back in their starting line-up.

Moore, a 210-pound letterman and a Navy trainee, and Richards, a Marine trainee formerly at the University of Cincinnati, were both unavailable for Penn State's past two games with Cornell and Temple.

Coach Bob Higgins said will arrive in Pittsburgh this afternoon. "There will be three radical changes in the Jungle Cat starting line-up. Jim McDonough, a 210-pound freshman, replaces Milt Ebert at left tackle. Richard Trachok, a 170-pound freshman, moves into fullback position in place of Frank Kilsely. Walter Jones gets the call for right halfback.

INDUSTRIAL QUINTS TO DRILL TONIGHT

Beau Jack 3 To 1 Shortend In Setto With Montgomery

Philadelphia Heavily Favored To Keep Lightweight Title Tonight

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Editor)
NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—"I don't know you out here can't win."

That's the slight ungrammatical but concise and not too complimentary viewpoint of the Jacobs' Beach mob regarding Beau Jack in his 15-round lightweight title battle with Bob Montgomery tonight. This Beau Jack has been established as a 3 to 1 underdog in his quest of the crown he held until he encountered Montgomery once before.

A capacity crowd is expected to pay around $90,000 dollars to file into Madison Square Garden and witness this return match.

Jack Setup

The bout has been postponed twice because one or the other was ailing with bad teeth, or bad knees or some other malady, but it could be postponed a thousand times without one fact being altered, viz and to wit:

In a previous meeting Montgomery belted Beau Jack all over the joint.

Beau Jack is a peculiar piece of fighting brie-a-brac in that he can win rounds only by flailing away without a let-up from all angles. When they try to pace him he runs out of gas. Thus he figures to be a setup tonight.

He has a peculiar habit of either knocking his opponent out or losing the decision. He doesn't seem able to go all the way to a decision.

Take his last four fights for a sample. First, he lost his lightweight title to Montgomery. Then he knocked out a couple of guys named Maxie Starr and Johnny Hutchinson and then he lost a decision to Bobby Ruffin, who refused to be knocked out.

Inasmuch as this fight is for 15 rounds, the only answer seems to be that Montgomery will win it going away.

Should Win Again

Some point to Beau Jack's youth as a factor in his behalf. In that connection it can be pointed out that Beau Jack is 22 against 24 for Montgomery, who seems to have found himself at this late date.

At any rate Montgomery beat Beau Jack before and Montgomery is the champion, there is no very good reason to assume that this will be drastically changed tonight.

This fight actually isn't particularly interesting, except for the fact that this is the only important title which hasn't been frozen by the war.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Emory Messenger of Columbus shot a bear weighing 210 pounds near Sheffield and Harold Mowrie of Tidouite shot one weighing 230 pounds near Charley Run according to reports from Warren. Messenger, employed at Corry was accompanied by several Corry hunters. Mowrie had trouble getting his bear out of the woods.

Under Secretary of War Patterson has rejected a recent plea by Representative Weiss, D. Pa., that the Army-Navy football game be played in metropolitan area where 75,000 fans could see the game. The game is scheduled for West Point November 27.

Bob Montgomery is a 3 to 1 choice to beat Beau Jack tonight in New York.

Hirsch Won't Play, Fritz Crisler Says

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 19.—(INS)—Coach Fritz Crisler refused to concede today the supremacy of his Michigan Wolverines over the Ohio Buckeyes in their engagement at Ann Arbor tomorrow.

He insisted the Wolverines have lost several of their stars through transfers and also would be without the services of their scoring and passing leader, Elroy Hirsch.

LOMBARDI FREE ON $100 BAIL IN FISTIC SUIT

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19.—(INS)—Ernie Lombardi, New York Giants' catcher and ex-National league batting champ, was free on $100 bail in San Francisco today on a charge of assault and battery.

Lombardi was arrested on the complaint of Wade Jones, Richmond, Cal., who charged that Lombardi broke his nose and lacerated an eye in a night club row in San Francisco November 10.

Jones, attorney stated he was preparing a $10,000 assault and battery suit against the Giant star.

Derby Will Be Held On May 6

Col. Winn Sets Date; Purse $75,000; "Trolley Car" Plan Outlined

By DAVIS J. WALSH
INS Sports Writer

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Col. Matt J. Winn, who decided he'd be faithful to his trust by holding the Kentucky Derby this year, meantime sort of brazening things out on a "handic" of only $1,801,899... emerged from the meeting of the American Turf Association here yesterday with an important announcement. He said he'd hold the Kentucky Derby next year, to the complete astonishment of nobody.

The date, said he, would be May 6 (which, too, was a little less than astounding, provided you had a calendar handy) and the purse, it was added, would be $75,000, as usual.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 19.—(INS)—All first stringers on Notre Dame's football team were pronounced ready today for their crucial game of the season with the unbeaten Iowa Seahawks at South Bend tomorrow.

The Irish checked assignments in a light drill today. Gerry Nord, third string left end, may see considerable action tomorrow because of his pass-catching ability.

Hawks' Edge Is Experience

Iowa Navy May Give Irish Busy Afternoon; Michigan-Purdue Set

By JERRY HEALEY
(International News Service Writer)

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—A determined shipload of navy preflighters shoves off today for South Bend bent on doing something eighth other teams have failed to accomplish—beat Notre Dame.

And there's nothing to indicate that the Iowa Seahawks will fare any better against this great bunch of football players from under the gold dome. True, the score may be closer, because the Hawks throw as many passes as the Irish and they've been scoring almost at will against opponents.

But they haven't met the opposition that has graded Notre Dame's schedule this fall. Ohio State, Iowa State, Iowa, Missouri, Fort Riley, Marquette and Camp Grant don't come near approximating the strength of Army, Navy, Northwestern, Michigan and Georgia Tech. Notre Dame swept over these latter eleven with ease and they're not

Hawks' Maznicki Included In Party

IOWA CITY, Ia., Nov. 19.—(INS)—Frank Maznicki, injured star of the Iowa Seahawks, was included today in the squad of 36 players that will make the trip to South Bend to engage Notre Dame tomorrow.

Coach Don Faurot hoped to use Maznicki, former Chicago Bears' star, for action in tomorrow's big game of the midwest.

Cashman Picks Irish By Four Touchdowns

N.D. Too High-Powered; Likes Penn State, Duke, Michigan, Texas Tech

By JOHN CASHMAN
International News Service Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Nov. 19. — To hear the experts tell it, you'd think that betting on Notre Dame against the Iowa Seahawks in tomorrow's clash is as safe as putting money in the bank or buying war bonds. This kind of stuff has been going on for two weeks. And the funny part of it is, Notre Dame has never given its backers one anxious moment, with momentary weaknesses, befuddled playing or tight squeaks. It's a gambler's ball club, and that's the best kind there could be.

This high-powered Irish outfit has what it takes to roll over the Seahawks for four touchdowns. The Hawks are loaded down with pro stars and trainees uprooted from other gridirons, and the Iowa team is a powerhouse even with the loss of eight men through transfer. Johnny Lujack, Jim Mello, Creighton Miller and Julie Rykovich lead a many-sided attack, and they are protected by the greatest line in the country.

Pace Slows Down
With the season beginning to give with the death gurgle, and with many colleges holding off until Thanksgiving, the pace is naturally slowed down. The game second to that of the Irish-Seahawk collision is that of Purdue and Indiana. Tony Butkovich is with Purdue's eleven no more, but we look to the Boilermakers to keep their unbeaten and untied record clean.

In the east, Army ought to run over Brown by a couple of touchdowns. Colgate is picked to add another defeat to Columbia's already long list. Dartmouth looks like an excellent bet over Princeton and Lafayette should eke out a victory over Rutgers.

V. M. I. is the choice over Maryland, Sampson Naval over Middlebury, Penn State over Pittsburgh, Willow Grove over Swarthmore, Villanova over Temple.

In the south, it's Georgia Tech over Clemson, Duke over North Carolina by a whisker, LSU over Tulane, TCU over Rice, Texas Tech over SMU.

Finishing out the west, we see Northwestern over Illinois, Missouri over Kansas, Michigan over Ohio State, Minnesota over Wisconsin, Iowa State over Kansas State.

Fair or Foul

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Writer
CHICAGO, Nov. 19. — Confidently said to weigh a paltry 278 pounds and with eyes like gruesome slits in an area of fat that might have been a poutie . . . or maybe a boiled New England dinner . . . All that was recognizable of Tony Galento was a head on through here a few days ago enroute to his pre-induction physical examination by the army back at Orange, N. J. Galento was, finally and in every faithful detail, the complete caricature of a man that the boxing writers were at pains to draw five years ago when (to hear them tell it) he was a positive oaf, a dolt and a clown.

He was so danged funny, in fact, that he was twice within a single punch of the greatest title that pugilism knows.

Hurt Himself
But of course the boxing writers couldn't possibly have done to Galento what Galento did to himself. With marked originality, he tried to swill his way through beer and light wines to the heavyweight championship . . . and almost made it, that.

Less than two months after this display of spartan fortitude and self-denial, he walked out and almost beheaded Joe Louis with the first punch of the fight. He was knocked down by Louis' best punch in the second round, and got up. He knocked Louis down with a left hook in the third round. And when the fight was stopped in the fourth, Galento was still . . . and had been through the round . . . on his feet, although it looked as though Louis was hitting him with a hack saw.

He didn't lose the Louis fight in the fourth round. He lost it between the third and fourth when he announced brashly to Joe Jacobs: "Knock with all this weaving and punting. I'm going to stand up and knock the bum out."

But even while Jacobs was bleating, "no, no," the bell rang and what had been till then a winning fight for Galento swiftly and sickeningly became an abattoir. Galento looked like he'd been run over by a tractor, but nonetheless headed straight for his Orange bar where he checked the register.

Apparently Satisfied
Apparently satisfied, he went to his home, picked up the phone, called the bar and demanded to know what the register read. Then he ordered the money sent over, and he sat there on the floor, counting it and putting it in a single draft. This went on so long, it was difficult to say which he did the most—gulp or count.

The money amounted to $302.65. He'd just finished drawing $80,000 for his end at the Yankee stadium.

As a human document, he just didn't make horse sense.

Wright's Streak Halted By Referee
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 19.—Referee Freddie Mastreen ended Bee Wright's bid for his 13th straight victory last night in the Aragon Gardens.

The mitt official stopped the Wright-Sammy Daniels go in the sixth round, terming the set to "no contest." Wright weighed 147, while the Baltimore mitter came in at 141.

Antlerless Deer Season Canceled In Clinton County

Similar Action In Tioga And Potter Counties Fails; Cameron Sector Doubtful

HARRISBURG, Nov. 19.—(INS)—The open antlerless deer season December 13-15 was doubtful today only in Cameron county as the State Game commission checked signatures of a petition calling for abrogation of the hunt.

The commission already announced that the open season on antlerless deer in Clinton county has been canceled because a majority of the sportsmen in the area demanded the move. However, such action by hunters in Tioga and Potter counties failed when insufficient signatures were obtained for the petitions.

Leffler said the 3044 hunters who had filed applications for permits in Clinton county will get "first preference" on the other counties for which permits are still available. These counties include McKean, Potter, Tioga and Cameron, unless the season in the latter is abrogated when the petition is checked.

Leffler said 3516 sportsmen had filed for permits in Cameron county and it would be "manifestly unfair" if the season there were abrogated. A total of 35,716 applications have been received for the 50,000 permits available, he said. Permits have been exhausted in Lycoming, Sullivan and Warren counties.

Harrisburger Nabs Record Black Bass

HARRISBURG, Nov. 19.—(INS)—The State Fish Commission today acclaimed Roy M. Boyer, of Harrisburg, for snaring the largest small-mouth black bass ever caught in Pennsylvania.

Boyer's fish weighed seven pounds four ounces, and was caught in the Susquehanna river near Duncannon on Wednesday. It eclipsed by one pound, one and one-half ounces, a fish caught by Elmer Lower, of New Cumberland, in 1933. Boyer's fish was slightly over 23 inches in length.

STAFF BOLSTERED
BLACKSBURG, Va.—Walter Crawford, former assistant coach under Bob Zuppke at Illinois, and Patrick Henry Kane, ex-boxing mentor at the Chicago C. Y. O., have been added to the Virginia Polytechnic Institute athletic staff.

There was no outstanding two-year-old this season.

It was gravely added that all this was subject to the approval of the Kentucky State Racing Commission, which of course was a factor we hadn't until then, thought to take into account. Naturally, if it turns out that the Kentucky Racing Commission doesn't approve of the Kentucky Derby, we'll all just have to get our heads together and think of something else.

For this, it was made clear, would be another "trolley car" derby, in keeping with the mandates of the ODT, and nobody can possibly get there except 70,000, who like as not will make it on velocipedes and pogo sticks.

However, if there are to be obstacles, such as an unwarranted disapproval of the Kentucky Derby by the Kentucky Racing Commission . . . it is safe to assume that the colonel will overcome them with his old world charm and that the horse race will be held in spite of everything.

One of the leading candidates is Occy, winner of the Belmont Futurity. But Occy, we understand recently had a leg injury "fired".

Field Impressive
Besides, there's always the possibility that Occy can't go a mile and a quarter, except in a box car and beyond that we have the distinct probability that he won't go in the mud.

Jezebel, Occy's stable mate also had a leg "fired" or soon will. So will Pensive, which was a race-horse just before the Belmont Futurity. Only to do a jack-knife but think nothing of it.

There's a few more pretty fair-to-middling possibilities. Alotter, and Patter and By Jimmy and the Lady Horses, Mrs. Ames and Cocopet. But that seems to just about close the accounts, leaving Col. Winn right now with a lot of glittering generalities, a sucker-proof (for him) promotion and the date. We don't suppose however, that he ever saw the day when he needed anything else.

PRINCETON RESTING
PRINCETON, N. J.—The Princeton Tigers were expected to rest today after brushing up on their pass defense in a 50-minute session yesterday in preparation for tomorrow's game with Dartmouth. Coach Harry Mahnkens announced that there will be no changes in tomorrow's starting backfield.

HAWKS' EDGE IS EXPERIENCE

likely to be stopped at this point in their high-flying season.

Hawks Experienced

One thing in the Seahawks' favor is experience. Such backfielders as Jimmy Smith, Bud Higgins, Dick Todd and Art Guepe pack a lot of know-how on the gridiron and have the makings to give the Irish a busy afternoon.

The curtain folds on the western conference season tomorrow while Notre Dame and the preflight eleven are battling to preserve their unblemished records. Nightfall should find no difference in the standings at the top with Michigan and Purdue sharing the championship with six victories and no conference defeats or ties.

Michigan dropped only one game to the Irish. Purdue is unbeaten. The Boilermakers go against Indiana and the passing of Bob Hoernschmeyer.

Michigan plays its annual game against Ohio State at Ann Arbor. Illinois figures to make trouble for Northwestern and Harry Stuhldreher sends his hapless Badgers against improved Minnesota.

Games between Iowa and Nebraska and Marquette and Great Lakes round out the Midwest grid card for the day.

MISSOURI PRODUCT

John Hazelett, Illinois regular right end, attended Missouri school of Mines at Rolla before being sent to Illinois for nav. V-12 training.

Continued Recovery Of Market Is Shown In Trading During Morning

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—(INS)—Strength in Electric Power & Light issues featured the continued recovery of the stock market today. The two preferred issues in the utility rose over ten points each, while the low-priced common rose fractionally.

The buying in Electric Power & Light reflected the opinion in Wall Street that the company's position in United Gas would be improved if the latter recapitalization plan, now under consideration, should be put into effect.

Gains elsewhere ranged from fractions to more than a point. Building shares, farm equipments and specialties had good support. International Harvester rose over a point, as did Johns-Manville and Pepsi-Cola.

Steels, motors, oils and rubbers were steady with fractional gains the general rule. Atchafalca led the rails higher with an advance of more than a point. Communications were mixed and narrow.

Amusements gained fractionally, while foods were about unchanged.

POTATO STORAGE

PITTSBURGH — (INS) — Potatoes can be kept for five or six months, the War Food Administration explains, if they are stored properly. As explained by William M. Walsh, Pittsburgh district supervisor for the WFA, here is a satisfactory method:

Inspect the potatoes carefully, sorting for immediate consumption those that are bruised. Then store the others in a dark place in the cellar—off the floor (to permit air circulation) and in a temperature ranging between 40 and 60 degrees.
